BOMBS ROCK FRENCH COAST

'Clouds' Of R.A.F. Planes Smash At Nazi Targets

By SIDNEY J. WILLIAMS

LONDON, April 17. — (BUP) — British bomber squadrons, protected by extraordinary "clouds" of fighter planes, shuttled back and forth across the English Channel today, battering Nazi targets with bomb loads that shook the French coast for the sixth straight day.

German airplanes retaliated by bombing two southwest England coastal towns this afternoon, when they encountered fierce anti-aircraft fire. There were a few casualties but no dead. A church was hit and the altar knocked down.

The British formations—including Canadian airmen—appeared to be the largest numbers seen over the channel since the war began, indicating that the R.A.F. steadily was stepping up its day and night aerial offensive. Many more than the 400 planes that attacked northern France objectives Thursday were reported in action.

STEADY RELAYS

(The German radio reported today that the Luftwaffe had bombed Southampton on the south coast of England last night after shooting down seven R.A.F. planes in Thursday's fighting over France.)

The British bombers and fighters were attacking in steady relays and almost continuous explosions could be heard along the French coast, indicating that airdromes and industrial areas as well as coastal positions were attacked.

A British United Press correspondent on the south east coast said that the area from Boulogne to Calais was attacked heavily by planes that roared over at 15,000 feet and then dived down into heavy anti-aircraft fire.

The formations later were seen returning over Folkestone at the same time new British squadrons raced towards France.

Today's first daylight sweep of the French coast followed an apparent tapering of the extremely heavy raids bombers have visited upon Germany itself four nights of the past seven. Last night, according to a communique of the air ministry, the bombers attacked the submarine base at Lorient, on the French coast, and the docks at Le

Big Air Training Meet Scheduled In Ottawa

By NORMAN M. MacLEOD

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(BUP)—A conference in Ottawa early in May of the United Nations on all phases of air personnel and plane equipment was announced jointly here today by the prime minister of Canada and the president of the United States.

The gathering, which had been forecast in a British United Press dispatch from Ottawa last Tuesday, was described by the official press release as designed to "coordinate" all air-training plans now being carried out by the United Nations on the American continent, and to review the common problem of air-fighting personnel as well as fighting and training plane equipment for the United Nations.

The conference, it was further explained, will be in ministerial level, with the strong probability that Sir Archibald Sinclair, chief of the British air ministry, will be in attendance from London. Who the United States delegates will be is not indicated as yet, beyond the intimation that they will be important members of the Roosevelt cabinet, but not the president himself.

All Russia Mobilized For War Production

By M. S. HANDLER

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, April 17—(BUP)—Total mobilization of Russia's 193,000,000 people against Germany's anticipated spring offensive was ordered today in official decrees mustering all manpower for industrial and farm production.

The decrees providing for a speed-up of agricultural production apply to all men and women and children as young s 12 years.

Two decrees mobilized all available urban and rural populations for work on the collective and state farms, agricultural stations and tractor centres.

Previous decrees had mobilized city populations to work in war industries and today's orders meant the total mobilization of Russian manpower, embracing all categories of citizens.

The council of peoples commissars of the Communist party issued a decree increasing the annual number of work days on the collective farms in order to speed-up production.

The decree stipulated, penalties for failure to carry out the speed-up.

Russ Retaking One Great Fortress After Another In Smolensk Region

LONDON, April 17.—(CP)—The Moscow radio said tonight that in spite of fierce German resistance the Russians were taking "one great fortress after another" in the region of Demidovo, 18 miles northeast of Smolensk.

Heavy fighting was reported also along the vital front between lakes Ilmen and Ladoga, below Leningrad, with the Russians trying desperately to break the siege of Leningrad before the thaw turns roads into bogs and floods the rivers.

The Finnish radio reported a resurgence of major operations still farther north, on the Aunu Isthmus between lakes Ladoga and Onega. The Russians have been on the offensive in this sector for the past six days, the Finns said, claiming the Red army lost 2,000 dead Thursday alone.

HIGH RANKS HIT

Benito Purges Fascist Party

By British United Press

The biggest purge in the declining career of Premier Benito Mussolini is sweeping out some of the highest officials of the Fascist party, private advices from the continent said today.

Hundreds of Fascists are involved, and, it was indicated, they include minister's undersecretaries, and especially, presidents of Italy's 19 confederations.

Some were caught in black market operations and war speculations. Others, it was reported, were purged for lukewarmness, or outright frigidity, toward Italy's Nazi "partner."

Starace

The first symptoms of the purge appeared last summer, it was said, when a number of prominent newspapermen were "eliminated," and Achille Starace, tough leader of the party, replaced.

But lately, it has grown in proportion and is sparing none, the advices said. Italian newspapers reaching neutral countries do not give the names of replacements, which apparently are made in the deepest secrecy.

In connection with reports that many Fascist leaders have lost stomach for the war and the Germans, a recent article in the Fascist press by Secretary of National Education Giuseppe Bottai said:

"The Fascist party in the nearest future must undergo a thorough purge. All lukewarm members, even in high ranks, who fail to understand the importance of the moment in which we are living must be replaced by younger generations grown in the climate of revolution.

Canada Wants Aid Australia Says Premier

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(BUP)—While no firm or direct commitments for Canadian aid to Australia have been entered into, "Canada wants to aid Australia and is endeavoring to arrange to do so to the greatest extent possible without defaulting on her commitments to other governments," Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King declared here today.

The Prime Minister made his statement in commenting upon press dispatches which had stated that during his conversations here with Australian Foreign Minister Herbert Evatt arrangements had been made for direct Canadian aid to the Commonwealth.

Evatt

Canada has not entered into any commitments with Australia directly, nor has Mr. Evatt asked for any, Mr. King stated. He explained, however, that Canada was most anxious to aid Australia and had given assurances that she would do everything in her power to this end by maximum possible co-operation through the Pacific Council.

The Prime Minister pointed out that Canada at the present time is taking only 10 per cent of the war production of the Dominion for her own purposes, and that the balance is being allocated under contracts to other United Nations governments. Negotiations were under way, he said, which it was hoped would result in the diversion to Australia of some of the materials now under contract to the other British and Allied forces.

Action Widens Jobless Benefits

OTTAWA, April 17—(CP)—Government action to place women members of the armed forces and Canadian members of all Empire forces under provisions of an order providing out-of-work benefits and grants to discharged service men was announced today by Pensions Minister Mackenzie.

The original order, passed last Oct. 1 and known as the post-discharge re-establishment order, provided benefits to certain members discharged from the Canadian forces after July in 1941.

"This new order - in - council amends the original order to bring within its provisions persons discharged from the Canadian Women's Army Corps, the Royal Canadian Air Force (women's division), and those who left Canada to serve in the forces of the empire," Mr. Mackenzie said in a statement.

New Crisis Is Seen In Relations

By RALPH HEINZEN

VICHY, April 17.—(BUP)—The United States recalled Ambassador William D. Leahy to Washington "for consultation" today as Pierre Laval's return to power in France brought relations with America to a grave new crisis.

(Ottawa sources have intimated that any break in relations between Vichy and Washington probably would result in severance of the Dominion's relations with France. Canada is the only member of the British Commonwealth with a representative in Vichy.)

The recall of Leahy, who is expected to leave in two or three weeks, was announced by the embassy a few hours after Laval had presented a new cabinet list to Marshal Henri Petain, who previously had received the resignation of the government of Vice-Premier Admiral Francois Darlan.

JOB FOR DARLAN

Darlan, however, immediately was named commander of the French land and sea forces with the rank of admiral of the fleet while Laval was understood to have tentatively selected Gen. Henri Dentz, who fought the British in Syria, as war minister.

(The exact powers of Petain, Laval and Darlan were yet to be clarified under the new pro-Axis set-up.)

Laval as leader of the French collaborationists is to assume full executive power with personal control over foreign and interior ministries.

(The German radio claimed that Admiral Rene Platon was likely to be the new French air minister. Platon has been colonial minister.)

(The German radio said Laval would succeed Petain as president of the council of ministers and that Petain henceforth would be limited to duties as chief of state.)

PETAIN CONTROLS FLEET

(The British radio quoting a Free French news agency said that it appeared Admiral Francois Darlan, as head of the land and sea forces, would be directly responsible to Petain rather than to Laval, thus apparently leaving disposition of the French fleet in Petain's hands. Fears had been expressed in London that Laval would turn the fleet over to Germany.)

Two torpedo hits sank the vessel in seven minutes.

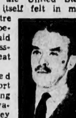
Japs Able To Attack India, Australia Simultaneously

LONDON, April 17. — (CP)—The Allies must assume that Japan can carry out "major offensives against Australia and India simultaneously," Richard G. Casey, Britain's minister for the Middle East, said today.

"You can rely on America," said Casey, who formerly was Australian minister to Washington.

He declared the steeply-rising production of the United States would "make itself felt in more than one theatre of the war" before long. He said it was progressing at "a great pace."



Casey

The United States war effort is progressing with no reservations, Mr. Casey added, and the United States "is completely determined to reinstate the pre-war position in the Pacific."

He said there "undoubtedly is a lack of appreciation for the British war effort in the United States," and blamed this on the "British tendency to understatement."

Urging closer post-war relations between the British Empire and United States, he said they would be "the only hope of salvation for the world."

Mr. Casey, en route to Cairo, said he was conferring with Oliver Lyttelton, who held the Middle Eastern post before his appointment as British minister of production.

U.S. Army Near Offensive Stage Stimson States

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—War secretary Henry Stimson said today that "so far as the army is concerned we are getting pretty near to the stage of being ready for an offensive, however difficult it may be."

In a review of American military progress since Pearl Harbor, given in general terms at his press conference, Stimson said:

"Things are beginning to move and to move in the right direction. I am now more than ever convinced that we are going to get on the offensive and to do so at the earliest practicable moment."

Stimson

He stressed that preparations for offensive warfare in a conflict which involved the entire globe was a long and difficult process.

"Before we can lead this nation into a long sustained offensive we

Nazis Shoot 35 French Hostages

VICHY, France, April 17.—(AP)—The German authorities announced today that 35 hostages had been shot in occupied France in reprisal for attacks against German occupying troops.

A first group of 15 was shot April 14, according to a German announcement published in the newspaper Courier De Pas De Calais, published at Calais. This followed alleged attacks on railroad lines the night of March 25.

A second group of 20 was shot the same day in reprisal for attacks against German soldiers at Bruay, Mericourt and near Lens, the announcement said.

Mine Wages Security Law Now Changed

Procedure under which Alberta coal mine owners are required to post security with the provincial government for their mining operations, has been changed, according to a recent order-in-council passed by the government.

The order brings into effect on May 1 amendments to the Mining Industry Wages Security Act to protect mine workers.

The act is administered by the department of trade and industry.

All mine owners are now required to put up security which is satisfactory to the department of trade and industry. In the event of the department considering that no security is necessary, a reference is made to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

The board considers the financial set-up of the mine, and makes its recommendations to the department.

Under former legislation, the board was given full power to decide whether an owner should or should not be required to post security. The amendments now give the department this power after a recommendation has been received from the board.

It was explained that the act protects mine employees in the event of a mine going bankrupt, operators being required, at the discretion of the department, to post a bond sufficient to meet wage liabilities.

Today's War Moves

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE

Copyright, 1942, by the British United Press and The Edmonton Bulletin

The chief obstacle to Hitler as he seeks to turn France into an instrument of war to further his 1942 campaign against the Allies is likely to prove the bulk of the French people themselves.

Dislike and distrust of Laval plainly is manifest. Laval is under close guard against personal violence as he takes the reins of power from the hands of the ageing Marshal Petain. Terrorism and sabotage have broken out.

Laval, it appears likely, will have absolute control of the government and Petain will not even attend the cabinet meetings. But Laval will have to proceed cautiously and it is not probable that any precipitate action such as turning over the French fleet or colonies to Ger-

IN CASE OF DEFEAT

Nazis Keeping Laval As Possible Peace Mediator

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE

LONDON, April 17. — (BUP) — Reports were current in diplomatic quarters today that Germany forced Pierre Laval's restoration to power in Vichy not only to protect its rear against a British invasion of the continent, but to reserve him as a potential peace mediator if Germany failed to crush Russia this summer.

It was admitted that Germany still had the military initiative, but diplomats believed that some insiders in high places in Germany, possibly including key men in the high command, foresaw the possibility that Laval might be useful in an emergency.

They said first that Germany had just passed through a far harder winter than it ever expected and that however furious Adolf Hitler's spring offensives might prove, the army engaged would not be as good as that which attacked Russia last June.

MUST WIN THIS YEAR

If Germany's spring and summer campaign failed, diplomats argued, many German military leaders would know that the back of Nazi

OUT-BOMB NAZIS

Britain Succeeds In Policy Where Germany's Air Force Failed, Declares Attache

NEW YORK, April 17.—(CP)—A far greater weight of British bombs on German and Nazi-controlled industry than ever before was forecast yesterday by Air Commodore H. N. Thornton, air attache to the British embassy in Washington.

Speaking to the American Society of Newspaper Editors the R.A.F. officer gave instances of why Britain is succeeding in a bombing policy in which the Nazis failed.

Air Commodore Thornton said the British Air Ministry believed the enemy air forces are not as strong as a year ago.

German production and crew training have failed to keep pace with wastage which has been greater in Russia than was anticipated, he said.

JAP WASTAGE GREAT

Italian production has not been able to replace losses in the Italian Air Force, "which consequently diminished in size and quality," he said. "As for the Japanese, if our estimates are correct, their wastage is greater than their productive power. Thus, taking all in all, we have every reason to believe that the combined Axis air power is contracting."

On the other side of the picture he noted that the R.A.F. "has achieved parity with the Luftwaffe and is steadily growing," the Russian aircraft industry "has been reconstructed in the east and is producing," and "above all else, the air forces of this country are growing and will continue to grow at a rate which can only mean combined overall superiority in due course."

Discussing air bombing of cities, Thornton said:

"The Germans have recently said that they have come to the conclusion that bombing cities was not worth while, and that they no longer conduct this type of warfare. In the same statement they hinted that the British held the same opinion. Now, either the Germans give us the credit for remarkably short memories . . . or perhaps it is simply that they are afraid. We have not forgotten the ferocious attacks on Warsaw, Rotterdam, London, Coventry, Plymouth, Belgrade and many other cities.

NAZIS WOULD LIKE TO STOP

"Now that the German Air Force is employed on a wide front in Russia, the Mediterranean, North Africa and Western Europe, it would quite obviously suit the Germans if both sides agreed to stop bombing industrial cities, factories, railways and other communications upon which war production vitally depends; and it is for that very reason that we not only have not the slightest intention to cease this method of warfare, but are straining every nerve to increase our effort in that direction. To destroy or disorganize the sources of munitions supply is surely one of the best means of bringing the war to a speedy conclusion. . .

"I have been asked why we should assume that our attacks on Germany will have more effect than the German bombing offensive against England, which were admittedly a failure. Why should we expect the German people to break down under bombing when the British acted so magnificently?

"Without going into the psychological difference between the two peoples, I think I can answer those questions very simply. The Germans, in their initial attack on Coventry, for example, did a considerable amount of damage—which we were able to repair without any great loss of production. Suppose, however, that instead of Coventry's being bombed to the extent that it was, it had been bombed for many consecutive nights with the same degree of effect. There is no doubt that the situation in that area would have been extremely serious, and there is also little doubt that the only reason that it was not bombed for many nights in succession was the German inability to do so.

ESTIMATES WRONG

"It is quite probable, when the Germans were drawing up their plans for the bombing of our cities, that an estimate was made of the number of tons of bombs required to destroy an industrial centre, for example, say Coventry. These estimates were incorrect; but we with our experience have a much more realistic idea of what is required to put industrial areas out of action for a considerable time.

"As an example, in the recent raids on the Renault works in Paris, we dropped in under two hours 2½ times the tonnage of bombs that the Germans dropped in their raids on Coventry; and we realize that to achieve a lasting effect, we must increase our efforts not 2½ times, but by a factor going into many tens of times, and that is what we propose to do in the future."

"It may even be that the greatest intensity of attack that we shall be able to develop will not entirely dislocate certain forms of production as we hope, but one thing we can be quite certain of is that this form of warfare will have such an effect upon the German industrial machine and upon the German people that it will pave the way for whatever form of final offensive it is decided to undertake.

DEVASTATING BOMBS

"At present, it is the R.A.F alone which can conduct this offensive on Germany, this offensive which indirectly is one of great assistance to the Russians, this offensive which is in effect the second front at the present time."

Thornton, who flew in Air Marshal William Bishop's Squadron in the last war said that the favorite British bombs at the moment weighs nearly two tons.

"As an indication of its power," he said, "I would add that it contains approximately 30 times as much explosive as an 15-inch shell —and here again there is no reason to believe that this is the last word in size or power of bombs that we intend to use."

One-Sixth Of Canadians Now Actively Engaged In Red Cross War Work

OTTAWA, April 17.—(CP)—One-sixth of Canada's total population now is enlisted in voluntary service through the 2,600 branches of the Canadian Red Cross, it was reported Thursday at the annual meeting of the central council of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Membership reports showed the society has more than 1,000,000 members and some 800,000 junior Red Cross members.

Mrs. Wallace R. Campbell of Windsor, Ont., national war work committee chairman, reported 6,416,578 articles were shipped overseas for distribution in 1941. Included were hospital supplies, 1,966,335; comforts for the forces, 2,025,137; women's auxiliary services, 185,267, and civilian clothing and comforts, 2,239,821.

ALL GO OVER

Despite the shortage of space on ocean vessels accommodation had been found for all shipments, Harry Milburne of Montreal, transportation committee chairman, told the council. Every week approximately 37,000 parcels, or some 200 tons, are shipped, including parcels for prisoners of war. Losses from enemy action were less than 2¼ per cent of the value of the goods.

Red Cross disaster and relief preparations have been most active on the east and west coasts, W. J. Cairns of Toronto, assistant national commissioner, said.

BLANKETS FOR B.C.

Large quantities of hospital supplies and 5,000 blankets had been sent to British Columbia and were in storage at strategic points. Arrangements had also been made for reserve hospital supply stocks held in the three mid-western provinces to be shipped immediately to British Columbia in case of emergency.

Miss Jane E. Browne of Toronto, director of the Junior Red Cross, telling of activities of the 800,000 Junior members, said 14 mobile kitchens and a station wagon have been provided through their efforts and a hospital bed has been endowed. More than $350,000 was raised by the juniors for war relief work and peacetime activities also continued.

Wilson Quits Post As Head Supply Board

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(CP)—Morris W. Wilson of Montreal Thursday announced his resignation as chairman of the British Supply Council in Washington to return to full time duty as president of the Royal Bank of Canada.

For nearly two years Wilson has been serving the British government in various capacities in the United States, first as personal representative of Lord Beaverbrook, then minister of aircraft production.

When the British supply council was formed in January, 1941, Wilson became deputy chairman, meanwhile retaining the chairmanship of the British air commission. He succeeded Arthur B. Purvis of Montreal as chairman of the council upon the latter's death in a trans-Atlantic bomber crash in August, 1941.

NO SUCCESSOR YET

Wilson's successor has not yet been named by Oliver Lyttleton, newly-appointed British minister of production, but in the meantime the office is being filled by R. H. Brand, leader of the British food mission in Washington.

The Canadian banker said he left with the knowledge that the United States and Britain are at last co-operating as allies, pooling their production and raw materials, and that the trials and troubles of American production and British requirements are merely dim memories.

must be as sure as possible that certain key points in our armor are as safe as possible," the war secretary said.

"We must make sure that our resources and manufactures areas are protected against any interruption which would hold up or damage our offence.

"And when it is a world war with powerful enemies attacking us all around the globe, our key points of defence run far out into distant quarters of the world where some friendly nation is holding a post that is vital to us. That is what we have been trying to do during these difficult months and the task is not yet finished."

Nazi Planes Avoid Channel During Day

VICTORIA, April 17.—(CP)—Lieut. J. L. S. Cunningham of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, home on leave after two years patrol work in the English Channel, said in an interview Thursday that few German planes appeared over the channel in daylight in recent months. "From August to December last year we never saw a German aircraft in daylight," he said.

Great Number R.A.F. Planes Attack France

Havre. Fighter planes attacked enemy airdromes in Holland and northern France.

Though the communique made no mention of the bombers having visited Germany, the Berlin radio said that British planes had attacked western Germany during the night.

The offensive was surpassing the German air force raids with which Adolf Hitler hoped to bring Britain to her knees 18 months ago. Residents of the coast who watched hundreds of planes roar over the channel yesterday said they had never heard such a din—not even during the Battle of Britain, when the traffic was from the other direction.

OVER 400 PLANES

More than 400 planes—Hurricane fighters, Hurricane bombers and Bostons (Douglas bombers)—took part in yesterday's sweeps. It was the largest number of British planes ever admitted officially to have participated in an offensive.

Improved weather was enabling the R.A.F. to maintain its dawn-to-dusk attacks and impose on the Germans the two-front aerial war they dread at a time they would rather give undivided attention to one theatre.

The attacks were calculated to draw German fighters away from the Mediterranean and from Russia, where the Germans were preparing for offensives.

Air experts said the home-based strength of the R.A.F. was now great enough to sustain vigorous day and night attacks, even at the present rate of loss, which has been small thus far, considering the size of formations. An average nightly loss of 10 planes, they said, would not cause any diminution of the offensive.

NAZIS HAVE TROUBLE

German air force, reported to be R.A.F.'s tactics have been developed, air experts pointed out, and the number of trained pilots and crews for bombers is well in excess of demand, a favorable position which compares strikingly with that of the German air force, reported to be having trouble obtaining enough trained personnel.

German efforts to retaliate have been weak and generally failures. A few enemy aircraft, after an unsuccessful attack on a coastal town last night, machine-gunned a train standing in a southwest station. A fireman was wounded. No passenger was hurt.

A communique said raids at scattered points in southern England and the west country caused few casualties and little damage.

Air Training Meet Called For Ottawa

While the terms of the invitation to the conference refer specifically to the United Nations that have air training schemes under way on the American continent and would thus apply specifically to the United States, Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Norway, Canada, and China, it was stated specifically by Prime Minister King that "steps will be taken to ascertain whether Russia is desirous of being represented and if she is so desirous she will be most cordially welcomed."

The prime minister, in discussing the scheduled conference with the Canadian correspondents who had accompanied him on his mission here, expressed the conviction that, from the standpoint of present and future significance, the gathering should be viewed as one of the most important that ever had met in the Canadian capital.

"The conference," Mr. King said, "will bring out the significant aspect of air warfare in the present struggle, and will emphasize Canada's central position in the world struggle—the part the Dominion is playing in the control of the air."

CANUCKS EVERYWHERE

Mr. King amplified this statement by pointing out that, while it had not been considered wise for military reasons to reveal the dispositions of Canadian fliers on the war front, it was gradually being realized by the public that they were distributed now right around the world, and were on active service in virtually every theatre of war.

The prime minister pointed out that the life of the present commonwealth air training scheme was scheduled to expire in 1943, and that an Empire conference would have been necessary in any event to arrange for its continuance. The Ottawa meeting now planned, he said, was an alternative proposal which he had suggested to President Roosevelt and in which the president had heartily concurred. Mr. King emphasized that the aim of the conference would not be to integrate the air training schemes of the United Nations, but rather to co-ordinate them so as to eliminate duplication and economize the use of existing facilities and available equipment—all with the objective of achieving a large overall increase in the production of fighting pilots.

CANVASS SUPPLIES

The situation with respect to planes and equipment available would also be canvassed thoroughly at the meeting, Mr. King told the correspondents. He indicated that one of the outcomes of the gathering would be an increasing disposition to regard the aircraft production of the United Nations as a common pool upon which all the Allies would draw in accordance with a policy of common agreement as to their respective needs, rather than in relation to their ability to pay.

The Prime Minister did not conceal from correspondents his belief that the forthcoming gathering will prove probably the most significant conference on air policy that has been held so far in the history of air warfare. He suggested that Canadians should be proud that the leading part which the Dominion has played in the air phase of the war had made Ottawa the logical place in which to hold the gathering.

King mentioned that at one of the many conferences which he attended yesterday a foreign diplomat has suggested the likelihood that the international policing of world peace that the United Nations will have to undertake after the war will probably be done largely by air power. He believed that if this forecast should prove accurate, Canada's place of post-war importance as a world power was assured, and that the foundations for it might be laid in next May's meeting.

Today's War Moves

man use is in the cards for the immediate future.

A great handicap to Laval is that the Allies will have none of him. He is openly a tool of the enemy. He will not be able to delude the French people into thinking he has done anything but turn the Allies against the French government. Patriotic Frenchmen who still dream of regaining their freedom and dignity as a nation look to the Allies as their chief hope. They will resent the turn of events.

HITLER IS DESPERATE

However, Laval will have to do Berlin's bidding and it seems probable that at the present state of his fortunes, Hitler will take any risks to serve his ends. Hitler is desperate. His grand strategy was thrown completely out of gear by Russia. He is about to embark on one of the most colossal campaigns in history and if he does not win it, his days are numbered.

Hitler badly needs manpower, especially skilled workers. In this Laval may be able to help him, by trickery and coercion. There is also no doubt that if he could make full use of the French fleet and French colonies, he would be in a position to swing the balance of power in the Mediterranean and Arica.

But to turn the French fleet openly over to the Germans would be risky business. French sailors would hardly serve such a master. The fleet would have to be manned in most part by Germans and it would take time to train German crews. It is possible, of course, that German officers, technical men and observers already have been on the ships to lay the preliminary groundwork.

It is suggested that Laval might be able to use the fleet on Hitler's behalf by turning it against French colonial possessions held by the Free French and British, under the pretext of regaining lost French territory. It is doubtful if the French people as a whole would be taken in by this subterfuge.

The situation holds many possibilities, but there can be no doubt that there will be early and momentous developments. Hitler has installed his Quisling regime in Vichy for a definite purpose, and that is to use France to help beat Britain.

Hitler plainly is worried over the prospects of a British invasion and no doubt hopes that under Laval, the French would help resist it in the belief that they are defending their own soil. But all Hitler's propaganda has not convinced the French that the British are attacking France, but only the German enemy within her gates. Many loyal French would be likely to seize the opportunity to turn against the Germans. An indicative incident of this nature occurred in the recent commando raid on St. Nazaire.

WINNIPEG, April 17.—(CP)—Alderman Stanley H. Knowles, provincial general secretary of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation, last night was nominated C.C.F. candidate for the constituency of Winnipeg North Centre.

The seat was made vacant by the death of J. S. Woodsworth, national leader of the party. Mrs. Woodsworth had been offered the nomination, but declined, it was reported at the meeting.

Oil Fields Of Central Burma Are Blown Up

By The Canadian Press

Outnumbered British and Indian defenders of Burma have effected a new withdrawal and have destroyed the rich Yenangyaung oil fields in Central Burma, it was announced today, while Richard Casey, minister of state for the Middle East, declared the Allies must assume that Japan can strike in "major offensives against Australia and India simultaneously."

British headquarters announced that battle-worn British and Indian troops, fighting a desperate holding action against Japan's invasion armies of the Irrawaddy river valley, had withdrawn at least 15 miles to a line north of Magwe.

Magwe is the gateway to the Yenangyaung oil fields, China's chief source of oil supplies.

The British communique said heavy Japanese pressure on the British right flank had forced the withdrawal, but said other British troops in the Taungdwingyi sector were still "successfully protecting the right flank of the Chinese expeditionary force."

The main Chinese army is under heavy attack by Japanese columns striking from the south and threatening with being cut off by other Japanese invaders driving down from the northeast out of Thailand.

In the battle for the approaches to Australia, Japanese warplanes again raided Port Moresby, New Guinea, 300 miles across the Torres Strait from Australia, and dropped 50 bombs. With Bataan fallen and Corregidor island fortress under fiery siege in Manila Bay, Japan's invasion armies were apparently bent on capturing the central islands.

Netherlands Subs All Escape Java

AN AUSTRALIAN PORT, April 17.—(CP)—Six Netherlands submarines—the last of which did not leave Surabaya until the Japanese were entering the port city—have travelled safely from Java to friendly ports, naval sources disclosed today.

The crew of the last submarine, during four days of waiting at Surabaya for high Netherlands naval officers, heard almost endless explosions as demolition squads destroyed munitions dumps, torpedo magazines and fuel tanks.

One night after leaving Java the submarine was picked out by the searchlight of an enemy destroyer four miles away, but crash-dived in time to escape depth charges.

Every Jap Transport Within Range

The squadron of bombers which flew from Australia to hammer enemy objectives in the Philippines probably set a new record for long-distance raids. The feat at least equals that of R.A.F. planes in flying to Italy to bomb munitions plants in the northern industrial triangle; though the latter have to make the round trip without landing, while the American-Australian fliers were able to make landings in the Philippines. Extensive damage was done to Japanese shipping around the islands and to shore installations at a half-dozen widely separated points. Despite enemy air and ground defences only one of the bombers was lost, because of engine trouble, and the crew was saved.

The experimental value of the raid may be more than that of the material damage done. It demonstrated that no Japanese-occupied island in the South Pacific is beyond the range of bombing attacks from Australian bases, and that the Japanese supply route to Burma and India lies wide open to such attacks. The bombers en route to the Philippines flew right across the sea lanes Japanese transports must follow through the East Indies. They could as easily have flown to Singapore and crossed every lane between Japan and Rangoon.

Self-Help Deserves Help

There seems to be an uneasy feeling among the members of the city council that the taxpayers may disapprove council's action in voting $1,500 to meet the organization and preliminary expenses of setting up an A.R.P. system in Edmonton. The taxpayers are not likely to take such an attitude, and should not. Council did right, and has no need to apologize for having done it.

There is a very sound reason why the initiative should be taken, and the first expenses met, by a city which seeks air raid protection. In doing this, the people of a community show that they really want protection, and are willing to co-operate in protecting themselves—and are not merely anxious to secure the spending of protection money supplied from the federal treasury.

What city or town in all Canada would not go all out for air raid protection—even where there is hardly a remote chance that a raid may occur—if the Dominion provided all the money necessary from the buying of arm bands for A.R.P. wardens to the digging of underground refuges? The exceptions would be few and far between.

In putting up the organization expenses, Edmonton's council demonstrates that it is in earnest in this matter, and it may on this account reasonably ask for and expect to get help from the Dominion. A city that would not spend $1,500 to protect itself could hardly expect the taxpayers all over the country to get excited about its supposed peril, and to applaud the spending of their money to safeguard it against a danger which the residents evidently did not take seriously.

What About Vichy?

While other business took him there, it was assumed that Prime Minister King would discuss the shuffle at Vichy with President Roosevelt while he is in Washington. The United States and Canada have the only diplomatic connecting links between the United Nations and the Petain cabinet. They have maintained representatives at Vichy, despite a good deal of internal and some external criticism.

If it cannot be shown that much good has thereby been done, it can be said that no apparent harm has come from maintaining this friendly attitude toward the doubtfully friendly cabinet. Whether it is worth continuing this attitude, now that Hitler's man Laval is directing Vichy policies, has to be considered. Washington's doubts on the matter are shown by the announcement that food ships will not leave the United States for French and North African ports until Laval's intentions are shown.

Thus far Vichy has not entered into a military alliance with the Axis powers, turned over its warships to Hitler, or committed any overt acts of hostility toward the United Nations. It is fair to suppose this is in some measure due to the refusal of the United States and Canada to break relations and thus make unoccupied France an outcast. Had it been thus isolated from all but Axis countries, the pro-Nazis at Vichy would have been given some color of excuse for carrying collaboration to the point of actual alliance. It is possible that Laval and company would welcome such an excuse, rather probable in fact.

The problem of how to deal with Vichy has been a delicate one from the beginning, and is more delicate now than it was a week ago. It will have to be handled with tact, not on impulse.

Control Marches On

And now the cook-stove has gone into the near-luxury class, along with its running mate the heater. Control orders have gone out to the manufacturers that they must make fewer stoves, and those they make will have to conform to "rigid wartime restrictions".

What this means is plain enough. Wants must give place to need, ornament to utility. What the wartime stove will look like can be imagined. Its shape will be determined by some calculator whose sole purpose is to make a given quantity of cast iron or sheet steel enclose the largest possible amount of fire space and oven room, and provide the largest area of cooking surface. It can hardly be an elegant affair, and may easily turn out to be a model of ugliness. The opportunities of the designer to turn out something handsome will be severely limited, his chance to produce a thing abhorrent to the artistic soul will be strong. Those are fortunate who have their stove requirements taken care of well in advance. Those less fortunate, and the newly-weds, will have to take what they can get, and this may be little more than a crude box in which to make a fire. We may not get back to grandfather's expedient and have to set up fireplaces with cranes and bake-kettles, but we are headed that way.

The reason, of course, is that iron and steel are scarce, and getting scarcer. Not because less ore is being taken out and smelted; quite the contrary. But because more and more of the metal must go into ships and tanks and guns and bombs and shells. Hitler has so ordained, and we have to give him what he called for. When in a country such as Canada the output of stoves has to be curtailed and styles restricted to the utilitarian standard, no one can be surprised that less necessary things made of iron are getting harder to obtain. This is just another of the ways in which civilians have to "take it" to win the war.

V

News has leaked out of Italy that Mussolini is a nervous wreck, no longer able to attend to business, and that affairs there are drifting into chaos. The first part of the report is believable, but the conclusion is doubtful. For a year Il Duce has been under Hitler's orders, and surrounded by Nazi lieutenants placed there to see that the orders are carried out. He may be in a state of mental collapse, but Italy is ruled by a stronger hand, and garrisoned by allen troops to keep the hungry populace from breaking into revolt.

V

Mr. Rayburn, Speaker of the House of Representatives, says United States factories are now turning out 3,300 planes a month, a single plant is producing a train-load of tanks every day, there are six times as many American soldiers now on fighting fronts as Gen. Pershing had in France after ten months of war, and every element in the country's war production effort is now up to or ahead of the "fantastic" program announced by President Roosevelt. Japan certainly started something when it forced the United States into the war.

Wasting Gas Recoils on Waster; We Are the Government

By HAROLD L. WEIR

This purports to be a mild and friendly lecture for two classes of people:

1. Juveniles who do not understand the true relationship between themselves and the government.

2. Adults with juvenile minds who don't give a tinker's dam about it.

Let us take, for example, the current shortage of gasoline.

The oil controller for Canada has issued an appeal for the strictest gasoline economy. He asks that pleasure - riding be reduced to a minimum and that joy-riding, which is the most blatent and purposeless form of pleasure-riding, be completely eliminated.

Harold L. Weir

He says, and we happen to know it for a fact, that unless these drastic economies are made voluntarily and at once, the rationing of gasoline will be tightened up radically—that is to say, unless we cut our gasoline consumption in half of our own accord, the government will have to cut it to about a third of the present allotment.

No Hardship

The present rationing system is actually generous. The average car-driver who employs his vehicle in a sensible way is not conscious of any great restriction on his activities.

Possibly Ottawa has been generous in this matter because they feel that the rubber shortage will eliminate a large number of cars before many months anyway.

But since that order was made and the present system instituted, the situation has changed. The gasoline and oil shortage has become more acute. A further sacrifice, if sacrifice it can be called, is required from the people.

Motorists are asked to use less than the amount they are entitled to use in the present rationing. They are asked to remember that just because they are entitled to use a certain amount of gasoline in a week, they are not compelled to use that amount.

The idea is, therefore, that each motorist, instead of trying to use of the last drop of his ration, as, of course, he is legally entitled to do at the moment, should pride himself on using as little as possible.

He should strive to see how much under the legal ration he can get along with.

This is the nature of Mr. Cotrelle's appeal to the people of Canada.

Response

On the whole, the response, in the last couple of days, has been good.

By far the great majority of motorists are honestly trying to reduce their gasoline consumption in every possible way. They take the crisis seriously and with patriotic consideration.

But there is a small class in this Edmonton community that is selfishly trying to use up every last ounce of their quota.

During this past week, I have seen numerous young fellows whizzing around in the evenings in decrepit jalopies, amusing themselves at the expense of the country's defence.

I have seen young people driving to school in their parents' cars.

I have seen love's young dream nourishing itself with long, leisurely moonlight drives.

And I have seen important citizens bowling by alone in their large, powerful cars.

I wonder if they know what they are doing? I wonder if they realize that this selfish waste of gas is an attack on the defences of Canada in quite as real a fashion as a bomb dropped on Jasper Avenue.

Sacrifice

There is not very much sacrifice involved in relinquishing some of these practices.

Young people were able to amuse themselves in the evenings quite satisfactorily for thousands of years before there were automobiles.

The course of true love ran quite as smoothly in the horse and buggy days. Perhaps it ran more smoothly.

Children thought it no hardship, a generation ago, to walk two or three miles to school. And it did not do them any harm either.

And big business was conducted with equal decorum and speed long before the magnate was wafted to and fro behind a gasoline engine.

The truth is that some people regard the government as a natural enemy and believe it their duty to themselves to run as close to wind as the law will allow.

Shylock, with his pound of flesh, was a model of charity and beneficence beside some otherwise excellent citizens in their dealings with society.

We Are the State

The thing for young people to know and older people to remember is that the state is no mythical entity whose rules are made to be broken and whose possessions are made to be pilfered.

It is composed of all the common people, of you and of me.

We are the state.

When we cheat the state, we cheat ourselves. When we endanger the state, we endanger our own homes, our own families and our own skins.

Anybody would make a sacrifice for the sake of his own wife and children. When we are asked to give up gasoline, we are not doing a favor to some remote person in Ottawa, but to our own families.

Every time we use a drop of gasoline that is not absolutely necessary, we are actually inviting some slobbering Jap to climb in our mother's or our sister's or our wife's bedroom window.

That it what it amounts to.

I think it would be a pleasant thing if we could manage to accommodate our private lives to the needs of the nation without all further drastic orders from Ottawa.

First Notch On His Gun

BY FLYING OFFICER JOHN STRACHEY IN THE NEW YORKER

One of our R.A.F. Hurricane pilots, Harry Brooke, got a JU-88 10 days ago. He's a biggish, heavily made, pretty tough sort of chap. In intercepting this JU-88, much the fastest and most formidable type of German bomber, he had to chase it 60 miles out over the sea.

It was his first combat; however, he closed to 200 yards without firing, letting the Jerry rear gunner spray him as he came in. Then he touched his firing button. The 88 disintegrated.

There was nothing unexpected in this. No one ever thought Harry would behave any different in combat. But what was interesting was what he was like when he got back.

He's an army officer, loaned to our service, and son of a colonel in Cheltenham—not, you'd have said, the most imaginative of men. Often pilots seem a bit exultant after a quick kill, and with some justification.

But Harry just gave in his combat report very quietly and went out of the dispersal hut. Apparently he'd watched the four bodies fall out of the blazing 88. "His back, as he walked slowly away by himself, was far more expressive than I have ever seen his face.

I liked him a lot at that moment. Not, of course, that Harry wasn't deeply satisfied with what he'd done; he was. We're in a war, and it's them or us.

But the pilots, in my experience, never forget to hate war as well as to hate their enemies. In fact, they hate the Nazis precisely because the Nazis have brought war and the worship of war back to the world.

A sailor on leave was being pressed for stories, and at last he told his listeners of an adventure in the icy north.

"It was that cold up there," he said, "that one day I saw some sea birds suspended in mid-air, frozen stiff and unable to fly or fall down."

Said one doubting Thomas, "But what about the law of gravity?"

"That was frozen stiff, too," said the sailor.

Motor Cars Can Aid

FROM THE TORONTO FINANCIAL POST

The authorities and the car owners of Canada must be practical in the new program to conserve gasoline. We are in a war of survival and to win we must make the greatest possible use of our resources, including our motor cars.

Little would be gained and much valuable time lost if the million and a half Canadian motor cars were arbitrarily locked in their garages for the duration. Other existing forms of transportation would be inadequate. There would be hopeless confusion and delay. This country's vast development of the last two decades has been substantially based on automotive transport. Many of our cities and suburbs and practically all of our towns and villages are absolutely dependent on it.

Take away the motor car and there would be paralyzing dislocation. Business executives who are now able to make a dozen vital contacts in a single day would need a week. Thousands of workers who live miles from the new war plants would be stranded. We need sacrifice in this war of survival that we are fighting, but it must be intelligent sacrifice. There is no object in doing without something that is vital if we are to do an efficient job. And motor cars are needed for quick trips between scattered plants, for keeping men charged with the production of necessary materials, in touch with all phases of their job.

We have so much gasoline and so much rubber available. It is of ultimate importance that this be conserved for essential driving; we cannot afford a single drop or a single ounce for joy riding. This should be the guiding policy, of our general curtailment program, of which gasoline rationing after April 1 is a part.

Non - essential consumption must be eliminated in order that there be enough supplies left for the efficient carrying on of necessary business.

Next morning O. J. Squizz of the Squizz Soap Company received the following letter:

Mr. O. K. or A. J. or something, look it up, Squizz, what a name, Soap Company, Detroit, that's in Michigan, isn't it? Dear Mr. Squizz, Hmm. The last shipment of soap you sent us was of inferior quality and I want you to understand—no, scratch that out. I want you to understand—Hmmm—unless you can ship—furnish, ship, no furnish us with your regular soap you needn't help us no more, period, or whatever the grammar is, and pull down your skirt!

Where was I? Paragraph.

Your soap wasn't what you said—I should say it wasn't. Them bums tried to put over a lot of honey on us. Whadda you want to paint yer faces up for like Indians on the warpath. We're sending back your last shipment tomorrow. Sure, we're gonna send it back. I'd like to feed it to 'em with a spoon an' make 'em eat it, the bums. Now read the letter over—no don't read it over, we've wasted enough time on them crooks, fix it up and sign my name. What do you say we go out to lunch?

City Pays High Tribute To McMullen At Farewell Gathering In His Honor

Eighty personal friends and business associates of J. F. McMullen paid glowing tribute to his contribution to the city during his 36 years residence here, on the eve of his departure for Winnipeg, at a special farewell dinner tendered in his honor at the Edmonton Club, Thursday night.

Mr. McMullen, for 36 years a resident of Edmonton, and for the past 30 years an official with Marshall-Wells Alberta Co. Ltd., has recently been promoted to the position of executive vice-president of Marshall-Wells in charge of all Canadian mills, houses and factories, and director of the American companies. His headquarters will be at Winnipeg.

Seated at the head table were His Honor, Lt.-Gov. J. C. Bowen; Mayor John W. Fry; A. M. Macdonald, president of Edmonton Chamber of Commerce which sponsored the farewell dinner; Mr. McMullen; G. H. Scott, president and general manager of the Northern Hardware; W. M. Irwin, successor to Mr. McMullen as general manager of the Edmonton branch of Marshall-Wells Alberta Co., Ltd.; L. Y. Cairns, K.C.; and George B. Henwood.

PRESENTATION MADE

Mr. MacDonald was master of ceremonies. Speakers included Lt.-Gov. Bowen, Mr. Cairns who presented Mr. McMullen with a gold plated desk set, appropriately engraved, on behalf of those present; Mayor Fry; Mr. Scott and Mr. Irwin.

Mr. McMullen fittingly replied to the presentation by reminiscing on experiences he encountered during his 36 years of business and personal contacts in the city.

All speakers expressed pleasure at the promotion received by Mr. McMullen and at the same time expressed regrets and sorrow at losing him as a fellow citizen. The position to which he was elevated was termed as one of the most important in the whole international set-up of the Marshall-Wells company.

TRIBUTE FROM STAFF

Mr. Cairns stated that the high esteem in which Mr. McMullen was held among the 164 members of his staff here, was well expressed in the gift the staff presented. It was a pictorial record of Mr. McMullen's life in Edmonton, compiled in book form and entitled "The House That Jack Built."

Mr. Cairns referred to the story of Mr. McMullen's progress as the story of the progress of Edmonton.

He arrived in Edmonton on April 16, 1906, 36 years ago to the day, and since that time has taken a keen and active interest in business and community affairs.

WILL RETURN OFTEN

Satisfaction was expressed in the knowledge that Mr. McMullen, in the pursuit of his new duties will be a frequent visitor to Edmonton.

G. H. Scott, president and general manager of Northern Hardware, Ltd., paid high tribute to Mr. McMullen as a man who has at all times been a close associate and personal friend in spite of the fact that for years they were opposition in business dealings.

On behalf of the staff, L. Hallman, credit manager at the local offices, expressed deep regret at the loss of their chief executive. He described Mr. McMullen as "the man who always had his door open for everyone".

Lt.-Gov. Bowen closed his remarks by stating that the whole province is proud of the splendid achievement Mr. McMullen has made and is rejoicing in his acquiring the well-deserved honors.

Looking them Over

by JACK KELLY

YESTERDAY the federal munitions and supplies department banned all trap and skeet shooting in Canada as a war conservation measure in an order issued by Alan H. Williamson, supplies controller, and approved by R. C. Berkinshaw, chairman of the Wartime Industries Control Board.

It was a knock-out blow for this sport for the duration, but it was also a high compliment to the value of shooting in the training of air gunners. The order stipulates that trap and skeet shooting may continue to be carried on under the sponsorship of the Department of National Defence.

While the story from Ottawa did not go into all details, it appears that civilian trap and skeet shooting has been banned in order to conserve shotgun ammunition and clay pigeons for the training of air-gunners.

Such shooting has been found very valuable in teaching men to "lead" their target, estimate angle of flight and shoot fast. Jack Bowen, son of Colonel P. E. Bowen, famous Edmonton rifleman, is now engaged in trap and skeet instruction work with the air force—or was when I last heard from him.

The Ottawa order now prohibits shooting galleries at fairs, exhibitions and carnivals as well as commercial galleries in towns and cities.

However, the order will not interfere with hunting.

"Because there are many rural residents, trappers and others, who depend on wild game for their fresh meat, we will not prohibit the use of ammunition for hunting," Williamson explained.

"It is true that much or this hunting is probably for pleasure, but we believe it would be practically impossible to draw a line between what is necessary and what is not. In any case, the amount of ammunition used for this purpose in a year is comparatively small and we believe that the citizens of Canada will voluntarily eliminate wasteful shooting."

Canadians will undoubtedly accept this new ban without more than a few cuss words directed at the boys in Berlin. It is a logical measure of conservation. The outdoor fraternity will feel more than compensated for the restriction by being allowed to continue hunting—something the majority of them value much more than skeet and trap shooting.

THE Edmonton Inter-Service Sport Committee is planning another big sport display for the Arena on May 1—boxing, wrestling, P.T., novelties, etc., with the R.C.A.F., Navy and Army all taking part. Proceeds will be used to supply sport equipment for the active service units here.

Harry Ornest, back from the spring training camp of the Seattle Rainiers, is slated to go to Spokane of the Western International League shortly.

Cracks Jack Guenther of the British United Press: "No matter how bad the news on the front page, a man may now turn to the major league standings and reassure himself that the American way still is safe—both Philadelphia major league clubs are right back in the cellar position in the standings."

Dominoes Trim R.C.A.F. In Opening Hoop Title Game

SASKATOON, April 17. — (CP) — Victoria Dominoes grabbed the lead in their best-of-five western Canada senior basketball semi-final with the Royal Canadian Air Force team of Saskatoon, by registering a 47-43 victory in the hotly-contested first game here Thursday night.

More than 2,000 spectators—the largest crowd ever to witness a basketball game here—watched the contest which was slowed down considerably by a slippery floor.

Second game of the series will be played here tonight and if a third is necessary it will be played here, also, Saturday.

Dominoes moved into the lead in the first five minutes of play and with the exception of a few moments midway through the half when the score was deadlocked at 16-16, the British Columbia champions were always in the lead. They left the floor at half time on the long end of a 21-20 score.

The Flyers made a game attempt to move out in front throughout the second half but were never able to come closer than four points behind their more experienced rivals.

Dominoes played a strictly defensive game in the first half and covered their checks closely. The airmen, attempting to carry the play, were erratic around the basket and missed at least 10 chances for field goals in the first 12 minutes of play.

MONTREAL CAGERS BEAT DALHOUSIE

HALIFAX, April 17—(CP)—Led by Johnny Ferraro, the former football star, Montreal Y.M.C.A. waltzed into the Canadian basketball final Thursday with a convincing 51-35 triumph over Dalhousie University Tigers in the second game of a best-of-three series for the eastern championship. Oilers won the first game here last night 30-21.

The stocky Ferraro, surprisingly fleet of foot for his heavy stature, was on top of the ball all night and scored 17 of his team's points. A few years ago he was the ace of Montreal teams in the interprovincial rugby circuit.

Ferraro's high scoring, made up of seven field goals and three penalty shots, was matched only by the work of Montreal's Captain Joe Richman, a slight little wizard with an unerring eye for the basket, who sank six field goals and two fouls for a total of 14 points.

That scoring, added to the 15 points he won in last Wednesday night's tilt, made Richman the high scorer of the series. Ferraro managed to notch up only eight points the previous night.

The Oilers will meet the western champions for the Canadian title.

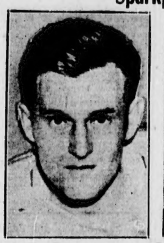
DETROIT SHUT OUT 3-0 ON HOME ICE

Toronto Leafs Tie Up Stanley Cup Series

SPORTS BULLETIN

Sparkplugs



Shown above are the two players who supplied the necessary spark which sent their respective teams on to victory in hockey playoff games on Thursday night. At the left is Don Metz, of the Leafs, who once again set the Toronto Maple Leafs on fire by scoring in the second period against Detroit. Milt Schmidt, on the right, after picking up an assist in the first period, started the five goal rally which gave Ottawa Flyers the first of the Allan Cup finals against Port Arthur.

Port Arthur Loses Two-Goal Lead

Flyers Beat Bearcats 7-4 In First Of Allan Cup Series

OTTAWA, April 17—(CP)—Port Arthur's youthful Bearcats squandered their offensive strength in the first 30 minutes Thursday night and when their initial burst subsided, Ottawa's Royal Canadian Air Force Flyers raced from behind for five goals and a 7-4 victory in the first game of their best of five series for the senior hockey's Allan Cup.

Bearcats drew into a 4-2 lead midway through the second period but centre Milt Schmidt snapped the shackles of a five-game scoring slump to score the tally that set off Ottawa's five goal spree.

After the game it was announced the second game of the series will be played here Saturday.

The game originally was set for Toronto with the third game in Montreal Monday.

Bearcats and Flyers, for two blistering periods, waged a red hot struggle that kept paid attendance of 8,328 fans on the edge of their seats. Coach Hugh O'Leary's thunder Bay representatives raced into an early lead and held a 2-1 margin at the end of the first period—the first time Flyers have trailed in 17 of their last 18 games.

CATS' DEFENCE GOOD

In that wide-open first period, Coach Bill Touhey's Airmen commanded a wide edge in the play but only once could they pierce the barrier thrown up in the Port Arthur nets by 21-year-old Russ Dartell, former Saskatoon junior.

Port Arthur stretched that margin in the early minutes of the second period, setting the stage for Schmidt's goal, the turning point of the game. It came on a shot from behind the Bearcats net which just barely trickled over the goal line.

Before that thrust Schmidt had been outlucked or outpassed time and time again as his cyclonic rushes moved him into scoring range. Schmidt's lineman, Woody Dumart scored twice to share Ottawa sniping laurels, with Buddy Hellyer. Johnny Acheson, Al Campbell and Schmidt got the other three goals.

TWO FOR McKENZIE

For Port Arthur 22-year-old Bill McKenzie led the parade with two first period counters and one assist. Albert Kelly, his centre, drew one goal and two assists with the fourth Lakehead tally credited to Steve Kyle.

Referees Curly Wheatly and Bert McCaffrey handled out only three penalties, two to their Airmen and one to Port Arthur.

Vancouver Races Starting June 27

VANCOUVER, April 17—(CP)—Sam Randall, president of the Vancouver Thoroughbred Association, announced Thursday Vancouver's horse racing season will open at Lansdowne track here June 27 with twilight racing the rule except on holidays when afternoon programs will be run off.

After six days at Lansdowne Randall said tentative plans call for the horses to go to Hastings park from July 18 to July 25 and then return to Lansdowne Aug. 1 for another six-day meeting. Second meeting at Hastings will be held Aug. 31 to Sept. 7.

No dates have been set for Brighouse track, near Lansdowne on Lulu Island south of the city, because plans to use that track this year are still indefinite.

The regular two-week meeting will be held at the Willows in Victoria, Sept. 12 to 26, Randall said. He said twilight races would start either at 5 or 6 p.m., P.D.T.

C.A.H.A. Holding Annual Meeting

TORONTO, April 17—(CP)—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's annual meeting opens here today and facing the delegates are some of the most serious problems ever to confront the organization which controls Canada's national game as played by the amateurs.

Paramount among all the deliberations will be the determination to help Canada's war effort in every possible way. At the same time, however, the delegates will have to decide how the Association is to carry on in the face of ever increasing problems arising from the war.

Registration of players dropped nearly 50 per cent this year, total registrations being 13,000 compared with 24,000 in the previous year.

Only extreme cold will break the hard shells of certain types of rock garden seeds and cause them to germinate.

Don Metz Again Furnishes Spark

DETROIT, April 17—(CP)—The rebounding Toronto Maple Leafs squared the Stanley Cup hockey series at three games by crushing Detroit Red Wings 3-0 before 13,153 spectators Thursday night for their third successive victory. The deciding game will be played Saturday at Toronto.

The Leafs scored the winning marker in the second period when young Don Metz slipped home a sneak shot, and Bob Goldham and Billy Taylor made it certain with goals 33 seconds apart in the third period. Goalie Walter (Turk) Broda meanwhile kept the weary Detroiters in check for the first shutout of the playoffs.

In coming back after dropping the first three games, the Leafs made hockey history last night by tying the series. Because of its dash and hustle, the Toronto club now is a prohibitive favorite to clinch its first cup, symbolic of the world hockey supremacy, since 1932.

Curiously, there wasn't a single penalty in the sixth game of what had been a rough and tumble series. There wasn't even a first class flat fight faintly reminiscent of the fourth game here when Manager Jack Adams of Detroit swung on referee Mel Harwood and drew a subsequent suspension.

BUSINESS-LIKE HOCKEY

The Leafs were extremely business-like about the way they won the game. The first period of hard hitting hockey produced no score, but 14 seconds after the intermission the alert Don Metz, a substitute winger who has sparked Toronto's comeback drive, seized the puck near the cage and beat goalie Johnny Mowers cleanly.

The Leafs then exercised considerable caution and invited the infuriated Red Wings to pick up the attack. But Toronto repeatedly outpositioned the Wings and kept wearing them down.

Finally the break came. Sweeney Schriner dug up the puck at centre ice and passed to Goldham who streaked across the blue line and into Mowers unmolested. The Leaf defenceman feinted the netminder out of his cage and let go.

Taylor scored on a combination play with Schriner, and again Mowers was unprotected. When the red light flashed the customers began to leave their seats.

Don Metz' goal was his fourth in two games, but for Goldham and Taylor it was a pleasant surprise. They had scored once each previously in 11 playoff games.

DETROIT STRATEGY FAILS

Coach Hap Day, who had gambled boldly after Toronto defeats by benching Gordon Drillon and Bucko McDonald, continued to use his fresh talent in the game, and again it paid dividends. Detroit tried these tactics, too, by trotting out Gus Giesebrecht and Doug McCaig from their Indianapolis farm.

But while Don Metz again sparked the line of Apps and his brother Nick Metz the Detroit top line of Don Grosso, Sid Abel and Eddie Wares was extremely ineffective. Detroit's best showing came when Giesebrecht's line of Jerry Brown and Joe Carveth were on the ice.

Last year Detroit lost four straight games to the Boston Bruins for the cup. That was an all-time record, and the Leafs will establish another if they win Saturday.

Major Racetrack Launches Real Help-Win-War Program

By JACK GUENTHER

NEW YORK, April 17—(BUP)—Take a firm grip on the nearest solid object, mates, here comes news of truly staggering proportions—a major racetrack has decided it can help win the war by raising funds as well as by boosting morale.

Promptly at 5:30 p.m., E.W.T., Saturday, Narragansett Park will start sweetening the various charity kitties with hard cash.

This spacious plant on the outskirts of Pawtucket, R.I., is the first to announce a long range plan of contributing to the army, the navy, the Red Cross and the usoo. The plan is both gratifying and significant because it is one which was drafted semi-voluntarily and which doesn't force the two-dollar bettor to foot the bills.

Judge James E. Dooley, the ruddy-faced Irisher who bosses Narragansett, has envolved a practically painless scheme which can be applied to every race track in the nation without involving hardships for any. The Judge will run one extra race every Saturday and holiday. All proceeds of that race will be donated to charities.

Although Dooley is the third track head to contribute, he is the first to provide an equitable method of distrubuting turf profits among the relief agencies. Churchill Downs has contributed $50,000 and Hialeah $80,000. Although these sums may be larger than that which Dooley will donate directly they weren't the product of a general plan.

LIMIT ON GIFTS

Actually, few tracks can afford to hand over $50,000 or $60,000 at a crack. Only a half dozen of the big boys are wealthy enough to absorb such gifts. But every track can afford to run at least one race a week for charity. The owners foot part of the cost and the public takes over the rest—but in a way which doesn't cut down the bettor's profits.

The Narragansett system is this. The track will pay the $1,000 purse for this extra race and will cover all incidental expenses for tickets, for additional labor and for utilities. All breakage—the pennies left after the pay-offs are computed—and the tracks share of the pari-mutuel handle will be handed to the charities in full.

There are 10 Saturdays and one holiday on the Narragansett program and the Judge believes the 11 extra races will raise between $55,000 and $65,000. Additionally, he will hold one entire day for benefit of the Army relief and two more for New England charities. The opening day profits at Narragansett, which exceed $10,000 went to the Navy.

GENUINE PLAN

I have studied the Judge's plan thoroughly and I believe it is foolproof. The horsemen benefit from the extra purse. The track pays off, but not drastically, and the customers aren't affected. Actually, the bettors are contributing too, but the cut of their money merely is being diverted from the race track to the charities.

Dooley's sincerity may be found in the facts that he has scheduled these charity days for Saturdays and Labor Day and that the charity race will run last on the card. Saturdays and holidays are the big money days at any track and the getaway race is the second biggest money race. Only the feature event tops it in the matter of money handled.

Announcing his contribution, the Judge indirectly slapped at his colleagues by remarking that he had intended to offer his plan at the recent congress of the National Association of State Racing Commissioners in Chicago but had been given no opportunity to do so. He also remarked that there has been too much debate and too little action.

BURDEN ON THE BETTORS

The Judge is correct. He is also correct when he emphasizes that the addition of the charity race to his program imposes no burden on bettors because no man is forced to patronize the mutuel windows. There are people who will say the Judge hasn't done quite enough, but to me it is pertinent that he is one of three racing men to do anything.

The amazing ignorance and shallowness of turf moguls in general was neatly summed up in one bigwig's plaintive whine that "sport writers are forcing us to buy our right to continue in business." In plain language that man doesn't want to buy with money a right that thousands everywhere are fighting to buy—with their blood and their lives.

NEW YORK, April 17—(AP)—Two young pitchers for New York Giants gave the Dodgers three games on balls in the ninth inning Thursday and two of them forced in runs for a 4-2 Brooklyn victory in the rubber game of the rivals' opening National League series.

Joe Medwick and Dolph Camilli opened the ninth with singles and Billy Herman walked to fill the bases after one out.

Hurler Dave Koslo of the Giants filled the bases walk to pinchhitter Stanley Bordagaray and when Ace Adams came to the mound, he also passed pinchhitter Lew Riggs.

REDS FINALLY WIN

CINCINNATI, April 17—(AP)—Cincinnati Reds finally got a victory Thursday over Pittsburgh Pirates, but had to go 12 innings to get it on a run forced in by a two-pitcher walk with the bases full. The score was 8-7.

Gee Walker had iled up the game in the ninth inning with a homer over the left field wall. Six Pirate pitchers gave up 14 hits to the Reds.

The victory gave the Reds one game out of their first three-game series of the National League season.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17—(AP)—Big Ernie Lombardi spoiled a great pitching performance by Tommy Hughes Thursday to give Boston Braves a 2-1 victory over the Phils in 10 innings and a clean sweep of the three-game National League series.

Hughes gave up only two hits in the regulation nine innings. But both of them—Max West's double followed by Lombardi's single—came in the second and gave the Braves a 1-0 lead. Then after the Phils had tied the score in the ninth on Ben Warren's single, Lombardi drove in a run with a single in the 10th that brought in the winning tally.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—Washington Senators staged stubborn resistance Thursday and spoiled Lefty Vernon Gomez' 1942 American League record debut, but New York Yankees finally overpowered them with a three-run ninth-inning rally for an 8-5 victory and a sweep of their three-game series.

The Senators dribbled a run across in every one of the first five innings, and eventually forced Gomez out in the fifth.

Marvin Breuer hurled three scoreless innings in relief before the Yanks set off their final barrage of a single, two doubles and a triple.

Gooden Nets Five, Gets Two Assists

WINNIPEG, April 17—(CP)—Portage la Prairie Terriers rolled unmoleested along the championship trail here Thursday night as they defeated Oshawa Generals, eastern champions, 8-7 in the second of a best-of-five series for the Canadian junior hockey title. Portage won the first game here Tuesday 5-1. The teams clash in the third game here Saturday night.

The western champions, with last night's victory, made it 24 games in a row in which they haven't suffered a defeat. Terriers came from behind a 3-0 deficit in the first period to skate off with a 3-2 margin. They increased their total to 7-4 at the end of the second and climaxed a brilliant offensive with an 8-7 victory.

Bill Gooden, sensational winger for Portage, thrilled a packed house of more than 3,000 by scoring five goals himself and assisting in two other Portage goals. Red Tilson, Oshawa forward, ran Gooden a close second for scoring honors when he banged in four goals.

Jack McDonald, big Terrier winger, scored two for the winners and assisted in another, while Wally Stefaniw, centre, completed the Terriers' scoring.

Ken Smith, Ken McNaught and Ron Wilson scored the other three counters for Generals.

After taking a 2-0 lead in the first period, Generals took two penalties, one to "Bey" Guidolin and one to Bill Mortimer, the starting defenceman. This paved the way for Portage who banged in three goals in less than a minute and a half and thereafter were never headed.

Portage battled desperately in the last minutes of the final period when Oshawa's offensive looked as though it might show results. Terriers, however, held out the onrushing easterners to skate off with their 8-7 win.

Gooden, besides being the high scorer of the night, also proved the best pugilist. In the third period when he was boarded hard by Jim Gilbraith, the mile-sized winger waded into the alternate Oshawa defenceman who was forced to retire to the dressing room for repairs. Gooden got a major penalty for his display of fisticuffs and Gilbraith got a minor.

CONACHER BLAMES LOSS TO PENALTIES

WINNIPEG, April 17—(CP)—Portage la Prairie Terriers took their second Memorial Cup victory in a best-of-five series calmly last night, at least, until Bill Gooden, left-winger and one-man wave of destruction, stuck his head into the dressing room.

Gooden, who blasted five goals and assisted in two others as Terriers downed Oshawa Generals, eastern junior hockey champions, 8-7, drew applause from his mates, with backslapping loosed in.

"Oh baby! I'll never be that lucky again," beamed the smiling 165-pound youth. "Five goals and two assists in a game is something to dream about . . ."

Coach Eddie Bell, staff-sergeant at the Portage la Prairie training centre, promptly predicted: "We're going to finish the series Saturday night."

In the other dressing room, Generals were irritated.

Coach Charlie Conacher blamed the loss to penalties, particularly one in the opening period when Terriers replied with three goals in one minute and 28 seconds.

"They scored five goals while we had men off. That certainly handicapped us, but we'll be back Saturday." Conacher thought his goalkeeper, "Rube" Waddell had an "off night."

Imperial Oil Production In T.V. Increases

TORONTO, April 17—Total operated production of Imperial Oil Limited, through its subsidiaries, in the Turner Valley field in 1941 amounted to 3,051,630 barrels, compared with 2,789,979 barrels in 1940, G. Harrison Smith, president, announces in the company's annual report for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1941.

Through its subsidiaries, Imperial Oil had a participating interest in 18 of the 43 producing wells drilled in Turner Valley in 1941, and, at the end of the year had a participating interest in a total of 62 crude oil wells and 82 gas wells in the Turner Valley field. In addition to the development of its interests in the Turner Valley and Fort Norman fields, the company, through its subsidiaries, continued an extensive exploration program in western and eastern Canada.

ALL-TIME PEAK

During the year the company's organization and equipment were employed in still larger measure than in 1940 to supply petroleum requirements of the armed forces and of war industry. While in the national interest it is not at present advisable to describe operations in detail, Mr. Smith says it may be stated that the volume of crude oil processed and of petroleum products sold by the company in 1941 reached an all-time peak. The increase was accounted for principally by additional requirements of aviation fuels, lubricating oils and fuel oils, all of which were needed in large quantities as the war effort developed. In reviewing the company's Canadian refining and marketing operations, the president states that for many years Imperial Oil has followed a program of progressive standardization in manufacturing methods and in the purchase of materials for capital construction and maintenance. The benefits of these policies have become especially noticeable at this time when conversion of industrial production of wartime requirements is becoming increasingly pronounced with a consequent limitation of materials available.

Discussing the increase for the year of 1,377,816 barrels to 9,830,343 barrels for the Turner Valley field as a whole, Mr. Smith states that this increase was largely due to two factors. First, an emergency production quota over and above the normal efficiency production quota, which was inaugurated to assist in meeting war demands, and, second, the arrangement made between the Oil Controller and the refiners for increased storage facilities which enabled a higher rate of withdrawal and increased accumulation being available for use during the sowing and harvesting seasons in Western Canada—the periods of peak consumption.

SUCCESSFUL OPERATIONS

Operations of Imperial Oil's subsidiaries in South America, particularly in Venezuela and in Peru, were considered successful during the past year, the president states. In Peru, as a consequence of recent exploratory drilling, new reserves were discovered and at the beginning of 1942 the total reserves were higher than a year ago. Total production of the South American subsidiaries, including the interest in Mene Grande's production in Venezuela, was 31,800,632 barrels in 1941 as compared with 39,705,068 barrels in 1940.

Although the company's sales volume was at an all-time peak in 1941, net profits from Canadian and foreign operations for the year of $16,144,069 were down from $17,638,717 for 1940, due largely to an increase in Canadian income taxes of over $2,000,000 to $11,221,162. Net for 1941 was equal to 59.87c per share, compared with 65.41c a share for 1940. Net profits from Canadian refining and marketing operations amounted to $5,237,200, after providing $5,604,359 for Canadian income taxes—an amount in excess of net profits from this source for the year—and a reduction from $6,829,825 for the previous year.

A sound liquid and cash position was maintained during the year. Net working capital increased by over $11,000,000 to $56,767,380. Cash is up from $6,063,481 to $18,252,716, and investment in Dominion and other bonds down from $9,665,077 to $5,646,279. Receivables, inventories, payables and reserve for taxes are all higher than the year before. In some measure those figures reflect incorporation of the shipping company in the 1941 balance sheet.

Huns May Use Pierre Laval As Mediator

offensive power had been broken and the sooner some sort of peace could be negotiated, while Germany retained sufficient strength for bargaining, the better.

Diplomats agreed that if Germany hoped to win the war she must do so this year. Some said she must do so by Sept. 1.

"Failing victory, Germany would face another and even more terrible winter—and, next year, an allied offensive which would pale in its striking power anything that Germany had ever dreamed of.

Some people here who know Laval well and have sources of information inside France insist that Laval does not feel himself wholly committed to Germany victory, but that he believes he might be in position to act as mediator. These informants said Laval himself might have convinced the Germans that as a clever and patient compromiser he might be a good man to keep handy.

NAZIS TAKE HAND

Speculation regarding Laval was linked to the obvious attempts of Germany to make itself as strong as possible politically as well as militarily before it started its spring attacks.

Not only had Germany strongly reinforced its troops in northern Norway but German authorities, and apparently German army authorities, had intervened against the Quisling persecution of the Norwegian church.

It was learned definitely also that when the retiring Vichy government earlier this week issued a savage communique rejecting a United States note on consular recognition of the Free French regime in West Africa, Germany itself ordered the cancellation of the communique. It was only when Vichy had telephoned Laval, then in Paris, and assured him that no attempt was being made to prejudice his position as incoming leader, that the Germans permitted Vichy to reissue the communique.

HITLER FURIOUS

France's Growing Trade With America Back Of Nazi Pressure On Vichy

William McGaffin, Associated Press staff writer, who recently has gone to Cairo after 10 months in French North Africa and who was in France at the time of the German conquest, writes in the following dispatch a background story of Pierre Laval's return to Vichy.—EDITOR.

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN

CAIRO, April 17.—(AP)—Germany won the first battle for France, but the United States has been winning the second—and that's one of the principal reasons Hitler has felt it essential at this time to ram Pierre Laval down the throat of reluctant old Marshal Petain.

I saw both the first and second battles of France. The second was not fought with bullets, but was just as desperate.

American ammunition in that second battle has been such items as sugar, tea and cotton cloth—shipped to North Africa. These are the things necessary to keep the African native population happy.

FARM NEEDS

United States ammunition also has included gasoline, machinery spare parts and other miscellaneous things without which the farmers of French North Africa cannot carry on.

Hitler is furious because the United States has been delivering the goods under a French-American economic accord for the last year, and thereby winning considerable influence over French policy. It is a program he has been unable to match.

German agents have made glib promises and even collected lists of the needed products from the French and sent them on to Berlin ot be filled—but nothing ever happened.

SHIPS KEPT COMING

Meanwhile, the ships continued to steam in, laden with products from the United States.

This program has not been costing the United States a cent. France has been paying out of her own funds in the United States and carrying the stuff in her own ships.

The Germans resorted to various tricks to attempt to stymie the accord, and succeeded in slowing it down from time to time, but not in stopping it until the resurgence of Pierre Laval caused a halt in the shipments Wednesday.

Italy Howling

BERNE, April 17.—(AP)—The Italian press, appearing hurt because Italy had not been mentioned in the Berlin-Vichy moves returning Pierre Laval to power, today intensified its sporadic shout for the return of Corsica, Nice and Savoy.

Diplomatic sources here expressed belief Italy is worried that Vichy might become more entrenched in Germany's favor than Italy herself.

Plan To Control Output Of Beef

OTTAWA, April 17.—(CP)—Control of Canada's entire beef output may be the solution of the beef shortage now threatening Canadian housewives, Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials said today.

Such control would apportion what beef should go to the United States and what would remain in Canada to supply the domestic market.

Donald Gordon, chairman of the Board, said he has made a recommendation to the government for dealing with the present beef situation, but until the government acted, he was not in a position to comment on the nature of his proposals.

"Reports coming in from all parts of the country show that the beef situation is in a state of chaos," he said. "I have made a recommendation to the government to deal with it."

Ponoka Wants Full Time Health Unit

WETASKIWIN, April 17.—(CP)—The Ponoka school division has sent a proposal to the Chamber of Commerce here and the Wetaskiwin school division for a co-operative effort to secure establishment of a full-time health unit serving both divisions.

Cost of operation will be shared, if the scheme materializes, by the government and the participating municipalities.

Among objects of the scheme are preventive medical service, immunization against communicable diseases, pre-natal and child welfare clinics, physical examination of school children, health education and sanitary inspection.

Gas Offer By B.C. Received By Ottawa

VICTORIA, April 17—(CP)—British Columbia's offer of all natural gas and oil resources in the Peace River block has been turned over to the federal departments of munitions and supply and mines and natural resources, Prime Minister Mackenzie King today informed Premier John Hart by letter. Mr. Hart some weeks ago offered the Dominion government all the natural gas and oil in the B.C. Peace River area for the war's duration.

Legion Faced By Grave National Responsibility Declares Alberta Chief

Members of the Canadian Legion are, in the words of the late Lord Tweedsmuir, the "elder statesmen of the nation in matters pertaining to defence," C. S. Heckbert, Vermilion, president of the Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion declared in addressing the Edmonton branch membership on Thursday night.

And because the voice and actions of the Canadian Legion carries a great deal of weight at this time its membership must exercise great care in the kind of criticism it may offer of the government and the conduct of the war, Mr. Heckbert, warned.

Prior to the address of Mr. Heckbert, H. E. Tanner, president of the Edmonton Legion branch, urged all members to work unceasingly for a decisive "yes" vote in the plebiscite on April 27.

Mr. Tanner explained the work of the affirmative vote committee and told of the work being done by the committee to arouse interest and enthusiasm in the rural areas.

Lord Tweedsmuir had observed it was the duty of the Legion to keep the national mind in a state of balance and the national spirit keen.

Now it's a bicycle made entirely of wood. A firm in California announces it has a number of these new and novel machines for sale. And from photos appearing in a Los Angeles newspaper you just "wooden" know the difference.

With wooden tires, wooden bicycles and a switch to wood for many other things previously made from metals and rubber, that poignant old favorite, "When they cut down the old pine tree" starts to have some real practical significance.

C.P.R. To Open Banff Springs Resort Hotel

Banff Springs Hotel will open for the season June 6, remaining open, until September 9, William Horder, Winnipeg, general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway said during a visit to Edmonton today during which he conferred with W. L. Mitchell, city ticket agent and R. W. Greene, travelling passenger agent. J. W. Dawson, district passenger agent, accompanied Mr. Horder from Calgary.

While it was true, the passenger official stated, that the Canadian Pacific did not plan to open its Chateau Lake Louise or any of the chalet bungalow camps in the Rockies because these resorts were dependent to a large degree on motor transport, now seriously restricted, Banff Springs Hotel, served by the railway, was in a different situation in regard to general and tourist travel.

TOURS CURTAILED

In common with other railways in Canada and in the U.S., the Canadian Pacific is not looking to a normal flow of tourists this summer. Organized tour parties from various parts of the U.S. which formerly moved through western Canada and the Rockies to and from the Pacific Coast will be eliminated or drastically curtailed by the lining up of available public equipment for military and defence travel within the U.S.

Mr. Horder's statement in regard to the opening of Banff sets at rest a rumor that the big resort hotel, with its sulphur swimming pools and golf course, would not be opening for the season.

Canadian railways, he said, have equipment available to handle heavy summer travel, in addition to the military traffic which is at a high peak. In this respect the Canadian railways are in a better position than U.S. railways since Canadian lines own and operate their own sleepers and diners whereas American roads lease such equipment from the Pullman Company.

Planning To Study Utilities Problems

Study of latest development in the public utility field will be made by R. J. Gibb, city commissioner, who will leave Friday evening for Eastern Canada.

During his trip he will visit utility businesses at Ottawa, Toronto, Montreal, Windsor and Winnipeg. He will be absent from the city for about two weeks.

He will attend also the meeting called by the Engineering Institute of Canada at which air raid precaution measures will be discussed.

Beware Person Enticing With Air Force Bait

If someone tries to sell you some magazines by telling you the price for high sales is a berth in the air force, don't believe him. This was the warning issued Friday to Edmonton householders by Flt. Lt. H. R. Jones, officer commanding No. 2 recruiting centre, R.C.A.F.

The officer stated he had received a complaint from one east end resident, who was bothered by a young man who tried to sell magazine subscriptions on a basis of making a refusal to purchase look like an unpatriotic act.

"Nobody has to sell anything to enlist in the airforce. All he needs to do is call at the recruiting centre and we'll enlist him in a hurry if he's fit and qualified," Flt. Lt. Jones stated.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Will the 40-mile-an-hour regulation that will be coming into effect across Canada on May 1 be a good law to maintain after the war?

THE ANSWERS

MRS. H. M. SELLER, housewife: Forty miles an hour is a speed over which many drivers prefer not to travel anyway. Those who do step up beyond that often have no reason for doing it other than the thrill they get. Most definitely fewer accidents would result if the speed at all times were less than 40 miles.

W. PRITCHARD: It will not only conserve materials, but will tend to conserve damage to vehicles and loss of limb and life. It will no doubt make things much safer for pedestrians and non-car drivers like myself.

N. E. LAKUSTA, agent: It will be a good thing all round. There will not only be less wear and tear on tires and less wastage of gasoline and oil, but there will be less wrecking of nerves. Less speed will no doubt ease the tension of body and mind of those concerned. When this situation is multiplied million-fold across Canada, it is bound to benefit the steadiness of Canadian people.

Nellie LaFleur, Edmonton, found guilty in supreme court Wednesday by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor on a charge of retaining possession of a coat, property of an Edmonton departmental store, was given a further remand for sentence until Monday when she appeared in court Friday morning.

Legion Names Delegates For Dominion Meet

Nine delegates to represent the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Legion at the annual dominion convention of that body to be held in Winnipeg May 24, 25, 26, 27 and 28, were chosen at the monthly meeting of the Edmonton branch in the Memorial Hall Thursday night.

Eight delegates were chosen to represent the branch membership with Walter R. McLaren, past president of the branch, and provincial command delegate to the convention, unanimously named by the meeting as a ninth representative. Mr. McLaren did not stand for election, but was chosen as a delegate by a unanimous standing vote.

The eight chosen by ballot, from 13 nominated at the previous monthly meeting are:

W. "Paddy" Griffin, H. E. Tanner, J. H. Van Slyke, Alex Riddell, G. C. Scott, J. McLean, S. Bowcott and R. C. Arthurs.

Mr. Tanner is president of the Edmonton branch and Mr. Van Slyke is secretary-treasurer.

Alternative delegates are I. W. Daniels, W. G. Rice and W. A. Irwin.

Neville Jones was returning officer and S. Seibert, Jack Ramsey and Ald. E. Gariepy were scrutineers.

Born in Meaford, Ontario, daughter of the late David and Phoebe McCann, she was married in April, 1921. She was educated at Meaford high school and the Hamilton Normal school, and for several years taught school in southern Ontario.

In Edmonton, she was a member of the Hon. Frank Oliver Chapter, I.O.D.E., and the Alberta Avenue Lawn Bowling Club of which she was the first secretary.

She is survived by her husband, Clifford Beckett; three sisters and four brothers, Miss Sara McCann and Mrs. Thomas Hodgkinson, William W. and David S. all of Meaford, Ontario, Mrs. Hubert G. Dann and Robert J. of Toronto, and Joseph N. McCann of Hamilton, Ont. A brother, Albert, predeceased her in December, 1940, in Kelowna.

Rev. W. M. Nainby officiated at the funeral services and burial took place in the Edmonton cemetery.

Former Magistrate Is Found Guilty

Found guilty in supreme court Friday by Mr. Justice G. B. O'Connor on two counts of failing to account for $880. A. U. Lebel, St. Paul, barrister and former magistrate, was sentenced to pay a $100 fine on each count or in default to serve 30 days in jail. H. A. Mackie K.C., asking for suspended sentence, intimated that restitution was being made. Mr. Mackie intimated that an appeal would be taken against the conviction.

Only one conviction resulted out of the light docket that faced Police Magistrate A. I. Millar, K.C., Friday morning. One case involving a woman charged with vagrancy was dismissed and the others were adjourned for hearing at a later date. In the case that was concluded Patrick Beauregard was fined $5 and costs or 10 days, when he was found guilty of creating a disturbance on a city street Thursday night.

WHY DIDN'T YOU TELL ME ABOUT IT?

Ask any showman how often he is asked that question and he will tell you it is one that nearly drives him crazy. Most showmen use every possible medium to bring to the attention of the greatest possible number of people every element of his show that could possibly appeal to them; but we are not always able to reach all and the above question results.

So we are stepping away from the usual theatre advertising page to bring to your attention a motion picture that we feel is so superior it warrants all the talking about we can afford to give it. If shouting from the house tops would do any good, we might try that too. The picture is "REMEMBER THE DAY", a story based on what has come to be called "the American way of life," its manners, interests, loyalties and ideals magnificently portrayed by Claudette Colbert and John Payne. 20th Century-Fox Corporation made "REMEMBER THE DAY" and they sincerely believe it to be their finest cinematic achievement yet. Ranking as a type with such features as "FAREWELL TO ARMS" and "BACK STREET", it is as appealing in its theme and certainly superior in its technical production. We wholeheartedly recommend this great motion picture as perfect entertainment and believe you will thank us for so bringing it to your attention.

Sincerely, L. G. PUGSLEY,
Manager, Empress Theatre.

Dorothy Dix Says:

A correspondent asks: "In the case of a misfit marriage, which is the more to blame, the husband or the wife?"

I think the husband is, because in marriage men do the picking. They look the girls over and choose the ones who hit their fancies, while the girls have to take what is offered them. A man's wife represents his taste and judgment, good or bad, while a woman's husband is her opportunity. One of the major tragedies of life that we are daily forced to witness is that of a fine, intelligent man, tied to a peevish, fretful, neurotic wife, who is too dull to give him any companionship and too lazy and trifling to even make him a comfortable home. Our hearts bleed for these poor domestic martyrs, but we could be a lot sorrier for them if we didn't reflect that they brought their and fate upon themselves when they passed up all of the clever, well-educated, broad-minded girls of their acquaintance for little nitwits, because one girl had a saleratus biscuit complexion and the other had the sort of skin you love to touch. If the time ever comes when men select their wives by the inside furnishing of their heads instead of the outside ornaments, and when they pay as much attention to a girl having a streamlined disposition as they do to her having a streamlined figure, there is going to be a great falling off in the number of middle-aged married men hunting around for women who understand them.

Dorothy Dix

The first mistake that men make in marriage that brings disaster upon them is in choosing their wives by their looks, without reference to their staying qualities, or how they are going to stand the wear and tear of domestic life.

The second mistake they make is in spoiling them, for a wife can be spoiled just as easily as a baby and turned into just as pestiferous a brat.

Without doubt the American husband is the best, the kindest, the most generous and the most unselfish husband in the world. He is the shining example that the women of every other country hold up to their husbands. But the trouble is he is too good for his own good and his wife's good, and out of his very effort to be kind to his wife he unintentionally works a great and terrible wrong upon her.

His goodness becomes a boomerang that flies back and annihilates the home, because in babying his wife he makes a baby of her. He keeps her in a state of perpetual infantilism. He makes a moron of her and prevents her from growing up into the full stature of a real wife.

The average man thinks he is being an ideal husband when he takes away all work from his wife and keeps her in idleness. He thinks he is being good to her when he gives her all the money she can spend, and when he relieves her from all responsibility he pats himself on the back and feels that he deserves a gold medal because he exacts nothing whatever from her and lays no duties upon her.

There are plenty of men who think they are saving their wives when they never tell them of any of their business troubles, or any of their worries, and when they make all of the sacrifices when the money doesn't go around and somebody has to do without things. Then these same husbands feel ill-used later on because their wives have not kept step with them, but have stayed silly, babydolls that they get tired of playing with when they have outgrown their boyish toys, and at middle age want wives who are their mental and spiritual equals.

Of course, there are some women who are female Peter Pans who never grow up, but the great majority of wives could be developed into real women and worthwhile wives if their husbands would take the trouble to train them. They would read and study if their husbands demanded it of them. They would keep up with their husbands if their husbands kept hurrying them up.

We are always talking about the influence of a wife over a husband, but the influence of a husband over a wife is a thousandfold greater than hers over him, and he is largely responsible for what she is at middle age.

So in the end it is the man's pick of a wife and his attitude towards her that is mainly responsible for whether a marriage turns out a success, or a failure.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Army Train Draws 9,000 In Calgary

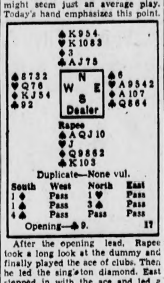
McKenney On Bridge

By WM. E. McKENNEY, American Card Authority

George Rapee is one of New York's most energetic young tournament players. His success at the bridge table is due in great measure to his unusual power of concentration. He is careful to analyze a hand from all angles before making what might seem just an average play. Today's hand emphasizes this point.



Duplicate—None vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening—♣9. 17

After the opening lead, Rapee took a long look at the dummy and finally played the ace of clubs. Then he led the ace of diamonds. East stepped in with the ace and led a trump, which was won by South. Then came a diamond ruff, a spade lead won by South, and another diamond ruff.

A club lead was won by a finesse of the ten, and Rapee cashed his last two trumps to exhaust West. He then led a diamond, forcing out the king. West returned the seven of hearts and Rapee guessed right by playing low from dummy.

Notice the king of clubs gave South a sure re-entry to cash the long diamond if necessary.

The alternative to Rapee's line of play would be to let the South hand win the opening lead and lead the jack of hearts. If a heart trick were thereby established, the contract might be made. But Rapee's line certainly looks better, since the diamond suit might become established in three rounds, and this line offers more insurance against a bad trump break.

Good Grooming by Short-Cut Way Well-Turned Out Girl Gets Job

"Where does she get the time to look so glamorous?" unsuccessful jobseekers grumble. "I don't stand a chance."

Yet, in all likelihood, the beautifully groomed girl doesn't "get the time." No one does today!

But if you know short-cut methods, in about 35 minutes a day you can not only care for grooming essentials—like bathing—but can care for the little extras that make all the difference.

For instance, you brush your hair of course, but dust will collect, giving a dingy look. To keep your hair clean and shining between shampoos, just rub off the dust with a towel—every few brush strokes.

Then, if you apply face cream with both hands instead of one, you can cream face and neck in the time it may take now to cream the face.

With the well-groomed girl, you know, a lovely complexion doesn't stop at the chin line!

To schedule your time for grooming, see our new 32-page booklet. It tells quick, efficient ways to care for skin, hair, nails, hands and feet. Also suggests time-saving grooming routines for business girls, home women.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "The Quick Way to Smart Grooming" to The Edmonton Bulletin Home Service, 60 Front Street West, Toronto, Ont. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

Please allow a week or ten days for delivery.

No Freezing Of Present Styles In America

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—The United States war production board, turning stern stylist for American women, decreed today that, for the duration of the war, dresses can be shorter and shorter, or tighter and tighter—as fashion dictates—but neither longer nor fuller than those now worn. Or, Milady's wardrobe can remain about the same, in cut and design, as it is at present.

Emphasizing it had no intention of "freezing" present styles, or rendering present wardrobes bhaolete, W.P.B. established a complete list of specifications covering future manufacture of women's clothes and ordered such frills as French cuffs on sleeves, balloon sleeves and patch pockets of wool eliminated entirely.

After Aug. 17, retailers may not sell suit and coat ensembles of more than two pieces at one-unit price.

The restrictions become effective for wool clothing immediately—in time to affect production of most of the garments to be sold next fall as decoration.

On Friday evening of this week, the president, assisted by members of the entertainment committee, are holding a social evening in Acacia Hall, 10433 83 avenue at eight o'clock.

Women Journalists To Be Used In C.P. As "Rewrite Men"

TORONTO, April 17.—(CP)—War may rob newspapermen of their last strictly stag stronghold—the rough, tough and carbon-covered desks of filing editors in The Canadian Press' seven bureaux across Canada.

Women journalists hold many a reporting job in Canada and handle copy on a few news desks. But no woman has ever tried to cut, edit and assemble news as it clicks from wire at 60 words a minute onto CP copy desks.

The speed approaches the terrific, the male company is likely to be more considerate of a bulletin than a blonde and a pot and cold shower is the most satisfying wind-up to a day at the desk in a news association office.

Despite all this, J. A. McNeil, general manager, told the annual meeting of The Canadian Press here Wednesday in a bit of a challenge to women journalists: "In bolstering our staff against eventualities, we plan to engage experimentally in each bureau in Canada a girl 'rewrite man.' The recruits will be trained in copy-handling and reporting in the hope they may eventually be able to handle wire-filing jobs."

New World Order Is Subject Of Panel Discussion On Thursday

WITH a view to the formation of study clubs that will organize co-operative thinking and working towards a new and better post-war world order, the Women's International League, Edmonton branch, is sponsoring a series of four panel discussions.

First of these, on "What Has the Church to Contribute to a New and Better World Order?" was held in Talmud Torah hall on Thursday evening, with members from Roman Catholic, Jewish and Protestant societies present. Mrs Murray MacDonald, president of the league, introduced the speakers.

The discussion was opened by Rev. McElroy Thompson, who urged "hard and clear thinking now" to ensure the new order.

Mrs. A. D. Miller stressed the new sense of responsibility that must become the heart of the new world order today. She said that the force of the brotherhood of man must become as dynamic as the Christian faith and that we must think of a world of nations as to what is best for each nation.

Mr. Burkwall, substituting for Mr. Bruce, said that wherever the church has gone in the Orient in past few years, the schools and hospitals have followed. The fact of the infancy of our race was stressed by Miss L. Thomson. She spoke of the need for imagination to make the world Home for the human race.

YOUNG PEOPLE

Representing young people, Miss Hope Spencer spoke on the problem that faces youth today, whether they should make use of the already large set-up of the church, or work through outside organizations.

Mrs. Frank Conroy, representing the Catholic women, told her hearers that a new world order could certainly be born by such groups meeting and discussing problems. She said that "we must begin with the individual to stress the need for this order."

Rev. H. Wakelin gave statements from various Protestant churches asking for the formation of reconciliation cells, that would result in the World Conference of Churches at the cessation of hostilities.

The discussion was concluded by Rev. S. Hirtle who stressed the need for humility in the churches. He said that we must grasp the opportunity now to go forward as a single man. What failure exists in the Christian church today, Mr Hirtle laid to the fact that too much emphasis has been placed on the doctrinal. In the future, he said, we must dedicate ourselves to action.

The next discussion will be held in June, when the subject, 'What has Education to Contribute to a New World Order?" will be presented. Further subjects to be discussed will deal with Science and Labor and Industry.

Unemployment Rises Sharply Across Canada

OTTAWA, April 17.—(CP)—The Unemployment Insurance Commission reported today that about 37,000 men and women were registered March 31 at the commission's unemployment and claims offices across Canada. Of these, 27,500 were men and 9,900 women.

The March 31 figure was higher than in the previous two months "notwithstanding the fact that many classes of workers are in demand," the commission's statement said. The Jan. 31 figure was 31,836 and the Feb. 28 figure 32,211.

"While there may be other factors influencing this increase in the number of unemployed registering, the commission is of the view that it is partly due to the fact that benefits are now being paid," the statement said.

"Workers throughout Canada are beginning to realize that unemployment insurance is a benefit plan and not, as was formerly suggested, merely a tax. This understanding tends to cause more workers to register for employment with the 100 offices of the commission across Canada. . . ."

R.A.F. Raids Keep Many Nazis Busy

LONDON, April 17.—(CP)—More than 1,500,000 German soldiers and civilians are "fully engaged in defence against the British air offensive conducted by the bomber and fighter commands," the air ministry news service said today. "In effect," the news service said, "the bomber and fighter commands are compelling the enemy to maintain a long and purely defensive western front."

At least 750,000 Germans are being kept busy in passive defence—as wardens, fire watchers, demolition and bomb-disposal squads and ambulance and hospital staffs, it was estimated. Another 750,000, virtually all regular soldiers or airmen, are said to be engaged in the immense German active defence system.

A searchlight belt 200 miles long and 20 miles deep in places, with batteries of 10 to 20 searchlights every five miles, was said to be stretched across northwestern Germany. In addition every large German city has its own searchlights.

"Anti-aircraft guns are in their thousands," the news service added.

10 U.S. Planes Are Forced Down In Venezuela Jungles

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, April 17—(CP)—Ten United States training aircraft have been forced down in the jungles of Eastern Venezuela, it was announced today, but a U.S. army communique indicated the only casualties were two injured airmen.

The planes were on a flight over sparsely-settled territory from Trinidad to Brazil. One machine was wrecked in an attempted landing on a river.

The scene of the landing is about 400 miles south of the U.S. defence base in Trinidad.

MELBOURNE, April 17.—(CP)—Aneta, Netherlands news service, reported today that two Netherlands women who reached here from the East Indies said 300 Europeans were dying amid appalling conditions of dysentry and fever in a concentration camp on the Japanese-captured island of Ambon, site of a destroyed Netherlands naval base.

No Intention To Cut Travel Via Railways

MONTREAL, April 17.—(CP)—Thomas C. Lockwood, Dominion transport controller, in an interview here Thursday said reports that restrictions on railway passenger traffic were imminent were "absolutely without confirmation."

The controller said railways had made no request to him that passenger travel be reduced and said he had no intimation such a request was likely in the immediate future.

He said that reports about travel restrictions had been circulating in recent weeks.

Mr. Lockwood said Canadian railways were in "an exceptionally good position to handle heavy war traffic" But he added that present conditions were contingent upon war developments.

He said passenger travel need not be restricted until such time as freight movements were delayed because of shortage of equipment or lack of accommodation on rail lines.

Canadian Made Getaway From German Camp

NEW YORK, April 17—(CP)—Ending a month-long journey from Lisbon, the Portuguese steamship Nuine docked here Thursday with 210 refugees, among them Roger Dupouy, a French-Canadian former artillery-man of the French army, who shot his way out of a German prison camp last September.

Dupouy, 25, was on his way to Montreal for a visit with his sweetheart before enlisting once more. He told a dramatic story of his experiences in the war.

"I was wounded on May 9, 1940," he said, "when I was being carried to a German prison camp. A doctor took the shrapnel from my abdomen.

(He displayed the shrapnel.)

"Transferred to Camp Souge, near Bordeaux, we were ill-treated by the guards. After spending a thunderstorm, six of us sneaked out of the gate.

Dupouy related that he dashed alongside a Nazi sergeant of the guard, grabbed his pistol and "I kill him in the head."

From Spain, the six went to Marseilles, where they were put aboard a ship for Casablanca. At Casablanca, they took the Guine.

Russians Sink Nazi Transport In Barents Sea

MOSCOW, April 17.—(AP)—Russian naval forces have sunk a 10,000-ton German transport in the Barents Sea, the fourth this week in that arm of the Arctic ocean above North Cape, the Soviet communique announced today.

Land fighting on the central and Leningrad fronts drew special mention.

Following an announcement that more than 2,000 Germans were killed in 48 hours of fighting on the Leningrad front, the Soviet information bureau said "booty captured includes a number of machine guns and trench mortars, a large number of rifles and automatic rifles and a considerable quantity of ammunition."

Forty German soldiers assembled in their headquarters at Staraya Russa, south of Lake Ilmen, to receive, Iron Crosses were reported by Moscow radio to have been killed by guerillas who blew up the building.

Another guerilla exploit was reported by the Soviet information bureau in its mid-day communique which said several detachments in the Leningrad region joined forces and made a surprise attack on a large garrison, killing 683 Germans, one of them a colonel.

Mr. Laurier attended a meeting of the cabinet Thursday and later Mr. Hepburn announced that his resignation had never been accepted. The Ontario premier said he had asked Mr. Laurier to reconsider the resignation and that Mr. Laurier had decided to resume his post.

CHAPTER XXXI

DR. WAVEL gave Peter the first bit of encouragement about his uncle. "It's a sort of reaction, we think," Dr. Wavel said. "He's been ill for a long time, the effect of the drug was cumulative. Miss Ranier, it seems, got here just in the nick of time."

DIRKEY WILL RECOVER

"Dr. Serge is confident your uncle will recover, but he says a few more days of the cumulative effects of the poison and he couldn't have been saved. It's too bad we haven't some of it here to be studied chemically. It's going to come as a shock to Krug's own patients just what kind of a crook their doctor really is."

"He hasn't been accused yet?"

"No. A man is innocent until he's proved guilty under the law. There isn't any sense of making accusation out of thin air, is there? We'll have to find Dr. Krug in order to accuse him of anything."

"To the people who know him in Los Angeles he's just a missing doctor. Later today I want you to see your uncle. He hasn't said very much, he's very weak. We think he is awake some of the time and conscious, but he doesn't talk to us. In the meantime come down and meet Miss Ranier's father and this young man who is with him."

"That's Mr. Robert Orwood, Red says?" Peter asked, watching Dr. Wavel closely.

"Yes. It seems that Mr. Orwood and Miss Ranier were to have been married in Chicago the very day she ran away. She took a plane to Santa Fe and came from Santa Fe to Lost Mesa on the train."

Peter nodded ruefully. "That's where I found her. It was one of those things."

Dr. Wavel looked at Peter quizzically. He had known the younger man all of his life, he had known Peter's mother before him, and he had been the friend of Peter's uncle for many years. He understood what was happening now. "You're in love with Judy Ranier," Dr. Wavel accused.

"And what if I am?"

"Well, what if you are? She's a mighty fine girl and a brave girl," Dr. Wavel said.

MONEY, POISE

"But she's engaged to marry Bob Orwood. Red says that he's a fine fellow. Why shouldn't he be, he's got money, poise—all of the things that interest a girl?"

"Those things didn't interest that particular girl well enough to make her stay by him," Dr. Wavel reminded Peter.

"Maybe not. She was young impressionable. She wanted to see some of the world."

"Poor girl, she's seeing a little of the world," Dr. Wavel sighed.

In the living room of the big ranch house John Ranier shook hands cordially with Peter Burke. "I'm glad you're able to be up. Dr. Wavel told me that you stood a pretty pummeling, and after you were down for the count, too."

"I guess it takes a lot to down a good man," Pete laughed shakily. His legs weren't very strong under him and his head still hurt.

"I guess it does." Bob Orwood said. He was standing by the open fireplace and he turned to shake Peter's hand warmly.

PETER ADMIRES BOB

No wonder Judy lives him, Pete thought ruefully, he's the kind of fellow men like, too, as well as women.

The authorities' reports were not encouraging.

Not a single clue had been unearthed concerning the mysterious disappearance of Judy Ranier. With a sarcastic emphasis Peter read aloud the news story concerning the disappearance that was carried in the county newspaper. There was not a line that could be interpreted as an accusation against Berthe Dirkey or Dr. Karl Krug.

Buried in the story was the brief statement that Peter Burke, a nephew of Charles Dirkey, the ranch owner, had been found in the ranch house, beaten and unconscious, and the news-story said. "Whether a thug committed the crime is not known since there were no witnesses."

"I don't blame the boys at the Gazette," the sheriff said, "no newspaper will deliberately make an accusation against any of these people. If some of this powder you say they've been administering to Mr. Dirkey could be found it would be a different matter."

"But you have the testimony of Dr. Serge," Peter said hotly. "He says my uncle must be suffering from slow poisoning, he says it's very evident and that chemical analysis of some of his blood will prove that."

"ALLEGED" STATE

"Maybe that's so, Peter," the sheriff said. "I believe it myself, exactly as you believe it, but it's still in the 'alleged' state yet. I get tired of that sort of thing myself, but it's one of those things."

"Where do we go from here?" Peter asked angrily. "This is the second day and we aren't ahead any further than when this thing first happened."

"I don't know, Peter," the sheriff said, "there's nothing my office would like better than to uncover the whole truth right away. But crimes just aren't solved in that way."

As it happened it was a very chance idea that pent Peter himself off on the right track at last. It was very late at night.

Peter had spent an interminable evening. He'd played a game of pitch with Bob Orwood and John Ranier. The three men, nervous and distracted, had shuffled cards endlessly, smoked great numbers of cigarets and listened every instant of the time for the telephone ring or the sound of a car that might bring good news.

It was one of the occasions when men get very close together. All of them knew deep anxiety, real terror over the fate of the girl all three of them loved, but there was nothing they could do about it.

All they could do was to endure the agony of suspense, to mark time and wait. Finally John Ranier suggested that they ought to go to bed. "We can get a little sleep, maybe, and be ready for whatever happens tomorrow."

SPIT OUT BULLET

Gallant "Koylis" Write New Epics Against Japs

By DREW MIDDLETON

LONDON, April 17. — (AP)—Bloody, weary, but still on their feet and fighting, a battalion of the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry, a regiment with 186 years of glorious history, held the Burma front today in obedience to the regimental motto, "Yield to None".

This battalion of hard-fisted, laconic miners from Yorkshire, has been twice mentioned for gallantry in the Burmese campaign. It is part of a small but determined force that has turned the Japanese invasion of Burma into one of the war's bloodiest campaigns, one which has cost the Japanese heavy casualties and time.

The deeds of the battalion ring throughout the army today. Already cherished is the remark of a sergeant who spat out a spent Japanese bullet which had ripped through his cheek.

"I'm tough, mate," he told a youngster beside him. "They bounce off me bleedin' teeth."

The battalion, fighting steadily since the second week in February, had neither relief nor respite for 44 days early in the campaign. Sometimes no food reached the men for several days.

TOSS JAPS BACK

During a movement across the Sittang river, the "Koylis," as they are known to the army by their initials, held a bridge, despite fierce Japanese attacks, until it could be destroyed by the engineers.

Then, shelled from the ground and swept by machine-gun from the air, they swam 500 yards across the river, carrying small arms and light machine-guns.

Once ashore, they marched away to re-form and re-equip.

"Magnificent action" at Migyaunge is praised in the latest communique today. This was another covering action in which the battalion, often outnumbered but never outfought, held the savage Japanese rush until withdrawal of the rest of the force was completed.

CREED OF GLORY

Losses probably ran heavy. But this is nothing new to a regiment which lost 20 officers and more than 600 men at Le Cateau in 1914. Behind their simple heroism is an ancient creed of glory.

The "Koylis" fought at Minden (famous battle in the province of Westphalia, Germany, in the Seven Years' War), at Waterloo, and in France, Italy and Macedonia in the First Great War.

In this war they battled in Flanders from the Dyle river to Dunkerque. Another battalion of the regiment stood up to meet the Germans in Norway when for the first time the British army was cut up by bombers and tanks.

Security forbids mention of the name of the officer commanding in Burma. The Queen is the colonel-in-chief.

SACRED FLAGS

Old and tattered flags of the regiment stand in a north country cathedral, heavy with the embroidered names of 26 battle honors. When the fighting and dying of this war is over, new Burma honors will be sewn on, and recruits will be taken in to look at them and learn that the plain Yorkshireman's rendering of the motto is "top the lot and stick it."

Allied with the "Koylis" in Canada is the Saskatoon Light Infantry.

Speakers Tell Importance Of Legion Matters

agree that much of the criticism we hear these days is not assisting in the war effort. Much of the criticism is serving only to destroy us," the speaker stated.

Mr. Heckbert said much is heard of the unwillingness of the young men of today to serve in the armed forces. He wondered if they were so greatly to blame. Perhaps the appeal was at fault.

Perhaps many of the young men have visions of older brothers wandering back and forth across the country on flat cars, or of the relief rolls. Perhaps they recalled how they got back as the different nations armed to the teeth or how we sent missionaries to China and Japan on one ship and scrap iron on the next one.

"We must be very careful of offering criticism now because the national position is a very serious one. But the Legion enjoys the confidence of the people and of the government and can do a great service in leading the way," he said

NEW CHALLENGE

The speaker said the present task of the Legion was to help those who had suffered in the last war and to assist those who are coming back and will continue to come back from service in the present conflict. A new challenge faces the Legion. The men coming back from this war will look to the Legion to lead the way in rehabilitation.

"And I don't think the men who come back from this war will be satisfied with platitudes. They have seen parsimony in peace and what has seemed almost like recklessness in war," Mr. Heckbert said.

The speaker then paid tribute to the federal government which he commended for having made tentative plans to meet the problems of rehabilitation.

The Pensions Act has been overhauled, medical care for soldiers is provided after discharge, and there is unemployment insurance and vocational training. There is also a new and better Soldiers Settlement Act.

MUST BUILD UP NOW

In conclusion, Mr. Heckbert urged Legionaries to organize now so they would have an organization at the coming of peace that "no government can deny."

One minute of silence was observed by the membership which stood with bowed heads at the start of the meeting in memory of Maj. A. P. Chattell, D.S.O., whose death took place recently.

A wreath was placed on a vacant chair at the front of the meeting hall.

CALGARY, April 17.—(CP)—Bailing out of their plane before it crashed ten miles southeast of Carbon at 1:30 a.m., Thursday, four men from No. 3 S.F.T.S., R.C.A.F., Calgary, escaped without injury.

Their plane, a Cessna bomber, was completely destroyed when it crashed on the farm of L. Hamer.

The fliers, in parachutes, landed on the farm of Fred Renn, who later drove them to their station in Calgary.

They were in the course of a cross-country night training flight when the accident occurred.

Getting Around

Joseph Goebbels, Nazi propaganda minister.

And there's to be competitions in politeness and good humor in all parts of Germany.

The campaign, dispatches said, was intended to curb excessive manifestations of nerves resulting from the war.

The possibilities of such a campaign should provide Hollywood producers with material for all the comedies they can grind out from now until Kingdom Come.

Just picture the pleasant little scene when a member of Himmler's Gestapo greets a suspect. Or the happy smiles and beaming countenances of the generals from the Russian front after a winter on the frozen steppes.

And the cheery greeting waved from one blitzed householder to another after a visit by hundreds of British bombers to a Rhineland city!

There's just one thing remaining that could be funnier. That's presentation of the Nobel peace prize to Adolf Hitler.

There's a couple of Edmonton boys who have been serving with the navy in many hot spots of the world of late who are deserving of special praise. Home on leave with stories that would just "knock your eye out," these two gallant young men had this to say to the conductor of this column:

"We'd like to give you a good story. But the enemy never overlooks a bet to gather information concerning ships. As long as our ship is still afloat it wouldn't be right to say anything."

Monday, June 8, is the date set this year for observance of the birthday of His Majesty King George VI, according to a proclamation contained in the Canada Gazette of April 11.

A copy of the proclamation was received here by Robert A. Andison, clerk of the legislative assembly from the Lieutenant-Governor through Capt. Alan Gillies, His Honor's secretary.

While the King's birthday falls on December 14, it is celebrated in June due to the fact that summer weather permits a wider observance of the day.

Provincial and Dominion government offices and banks will remain closed June 11. Civic offices will remain open, as will stores and schools. It is expected school students will observe a program of patriotic exercises on that date.

Last year the King's birthday was celebrated June 9. His Majesty was born December 14, 1895.

Norwegians Are Ordered To Leave Northern Regions

LONDON, April 17.—(CP)—Stockholm reports said today the Germans had ordered the withdrawal of large numbers of Norwegians from the regions of Tromsoe, Arctic ocean port, and Moide, on the hump of Norway's west coast, indicating continuing Nazi preparations against a possible Allied invasion.

Seizure Bill

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)—The government would be authorized to seize any private automobile in the United States under a bill introduced Thursday by Senator Sheridan Downey (Dem.-Calif.). Downey called for action now to assure future transportation for war workers.

Alderman Asks For "Yes" Vote In Plebiscite

An appeal to vote "Yes" in the forthcoming plebiscite as a step in the right direction toward a rebirth of complete freedom worthy of the sacrifices now being made, was issued Friday by Alderman Guy Patterson, K.C.

Mr. Patterson stated that his reason for urging an emphatic "Yes" vote rests with the assumption that the government will take "Yes" as a request to proceed with an all out war effort.

Following is the text in part of his appeal:

I am suggesting that we vote "Yes" on the plebiscite. In doing so, I assume that the government will take "Yes" as a request to proceed with an all out war effort changing from a voluntary basis to one making the responsibility a command on everyone irrespective of class or section and thus ending isolation and the sharking of personal responsibility.

I am satisfied that the great mass of Canadians deep within themselves are unselfish, brave and capable of rising to meet responsibility where properly appealed to. They will follow their leaders when those leaders are brave, unselfish and capable.

NEW WORLD

Our people know that in order to save ourselves we must move into a new world; a world that calls for the utmost in sacrifice even to the point of losing life to find it; a world in which premature death of our youngest and finest becomes necessary to prevent a life of lingering death to the rest of us; a world in which the light of the morning is being preceded by a terrible night filled with "Blood, Sweat and Tears."

We will be called on to pay, a terrible price. We can avoid paying the price by accepting Shinto and Nazi slavery. Voting "No" may be a step in that direction. Canadian people will, if aroused, arise to the occasion, and through voting "Yes" demand that we pay the price."

Arthur W. Ormsby Here Fifty Years

Arthur W. Ornsby, 73, of 10148 115 street, received congratulations of friends on Thursday, on the anniversary of his arrival in Edmonton 50 years ago, and the 47th anniversary of his and Mrs. Ormsby's marriage.

Arriving in Edmonton, Mr. Ormsby worked with K. A. McLeod, contractor, and Alex Taylor, owner of the Edmonton district telephone system. For many years he was superintendent of the electric light and power department, and subsequently was city commissioner, dealing particularly with utilities.

Police Searching For Two Persons

The missing persons department of the city detective office, is asking for any information that may lead to the locating of two persons who were last known to be in Edmonton or vicinity.

Mrs. Phyllis Lubery, last known to have been in Edmonton with her husband who was believed to have been employed here, is being sought by her brother, Cpl. R. J. Higbee, of Dafoe, Sask.

Cpl. Higbee stated in his communication to Edmonton that the father is ill, and he is anxious to get a letter to his sister immediately.

Twenty-four year old Alexander Patrick Dancsok is being sought by his brother George, of Esterhazy, Sask. George wrote to the city detective department stating that the missing person left Esterhazy two years ago and spent the following year in the army in Calgary.

He was then discharged from the army and has since not been heard from. George believes that Alexander may be in Edmonton.

The missing man is six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds. He has brown hair and brown eyes. There is a scar on his lower right jaw.

Anyone knowing of the whereabouts of either of the above persons is asked to communicate with the detective office, City Police station, Edmonton.

Truck Ban Goes On North Of Red Deer

Ban on truck and passenger bus traffic on highways north of Red Deer is now in effect, an order from the provincial highway traffic board taking effect as from 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 15. The ban was made necessary by the recent snowstorm and the fact that roads are in a soft condition.

The usual exceptions are granted, permitting farmers to carry half-loads of milk and other farm products, half-loads of mail and loading of a three-quarter ton of any commodity.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting the condition continue. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Herrics Drug Stores or any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a low priced remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.
